

EARLY ACTION EXPECTED IN ICE DRIVE

Newmarket — There has been little change in the campaign to raise funds for the installation of artificial ice in the Newmarket "Memorial" Arena over the past week. At the moment the fund approaches the $10,000 mark. Some progress is reported in the over-all picture. Chairman Fred Thompson of the Ways and Means Committee hints major developments and decisions may be coming up over the next week.

Might be wise at this time to give a quick run down of what has been accomplished since the campaign opened early in April. As mentioned, subscriptions total close to $10,000. From the outset the Ways and Means Committee, working in conjunction with the Recreation Commission, suggested the drive should be a community project. Town organizations joined in the campaign and raised well over $1,000 through various activities. Another major portion has been subscribed by the employees of the town industries through a weekly pledge card system put into operation by the committee.

Shortly after stepping into their drive the committee found one of the first queries they had to contend with was the question "Who'll manage the rink after artificial ice is installed." It was also found upon investigation that a Rink Commission was necessary in order to make application for a grant from the provincial government. The grant could run as high as $10,000.

The rink commission is to be a seven-man board composed of Page 10, Col. 4

To Open Lunch Bar On Eagle St.

Newmarket — A lunch bar operated by Don Wright, will be opened on Saturday at 69 Eagle St. This will be the second new business to open on Eagle St. this week.

Mr. Wright has lived in Newmarket eight years. For three years he operated his own gasoline sales business and for three years has worked for the Canadian Oil Company.

Mrs. Wright said yesterday that the new business would be a combination lunch counter, grocery store and confectionery store. She said she plans to serve sandwiches, salad plates and cold meats.

EXAMINE FOOD HANDLERS

Newmarket — In compliance with the provisions of a new health by-law, requiring a physical examination of food handlers in town, the medical officer of health, Dr. L. W. Dales, examined about 40 cooks, waitresses, and other workers in restaurants in Newmarket at the public health nurse's office yesterday.

POLIO REPORT

Aurora, Landing Note Case Each, Nkt. Case Home

Aurora — Despite the amount of poliomyelitis at present so prevalent in other centres, Aurora has had, to date, only one case of the disease. A young Kennedy St. girl was found to be suffering from polio towards the end of last week and was removed to the Sick Children's hospital, Toronto, where she is undergoing treatment. No other cases have been reported in Aurora.

In a statement to the Newmarket Era and Express Wednesday Dr. G. W. Williams, M.O.H., expressed himself as satisfied with the present state of health in Aurora and stressed that "there is absolutely no cause for concern over polio in Aurora." Dr. Williams feels that no special precautions are necessary other than usual common-sense care.

Fruit Scarcer This Year But Sugar Content Up

Although housewives report a scarcity of fresh fruit and vegetables in comparison to other years, agricultural specialists have uttered a brighter note. They say that the available fruit, although smaller in size, has a higher sugar content so the consumer may not have to buy as much for preserving.

The domestic canning season is nearing its peak now with raspberries and cherries about over and just coming along are peaches, pears and plums. Apples are readying and melons are seen on the fruit stands now.

New Confectionary Store Opens on Eagle St.

Newmarket — A new confectionary store opened on Eagle St. this week operated by Mrs. Violet Baillie. At 81 Eagle, corner of Lorne Ave., Mrs. Baillie has a small, brightly decorated shop where she handles tobaccos, candy, soft drinks and a small line of groceries and other sundries.

"Many people have expressed a need for such a store away out at this end of town, especially since the new subdivision has opened," said Mrs. Baillie.

Mrs. Baillie's store is at the same location as the warehouse of her husband, Ted Baillie, who operates a wholesale confectionery and tobacco business.

past three weeks and hope to complete the job in town by next week. The survey is part of the advance preparation for the hydro conversion from 25 to 60-cycle power. When Newmarket is finished, the crews will move down to Aurora and on down Yonge St.

It has not been settled definitely whether or not commercial users will be surveyed at this time. They and domestic users have still to be inventoried. It is expected that the actual change-over will take place in May or June of next year but the date depends largely upon hydro's readiness to provide the 60-cycle power.

The task of conversion is expected to take 12 years and cost in the neighborhood of $400 millions. The survey crews are examining every aspect of electrical operation in the industrial plants, and noting down all specifications such as speed, horsepower, gear sizes, etc. This information is sent to the engineering department of Canadian Comstock where it is checked, and a decision made as to how the equipment will be converted.

Actual period of conversion is expected to be very short with power cut off in the individual plants not longer than two or three hours. Large gangs of conversion crews, working from prepared blueprints, will do sections at a time and will be assisted by travelling workshops.

Newmarket — Dr. L. W. Dales, medical officer of health, said this morning there had been no more cases of polio reported in Newmarket. The case in town an Andrew St. child, has been returned from the isolation hospital in Toronto and is reported to be recovering nicely.

Dr. Dales emphasized plenty of rest, keeping children from crowds, and cleanliness as preventative measures.

One case of polio was reported from Holland Landing this week, the child having been sent to the isolation hospital. There is no report as yet how he is progressing.

On the advice of Dr. Dales, it has been decided to cancel the Canadian Legion picnic which was to have been held on August 7.

HOLE-IN-ONE

Aurora — For the second time this year a hole-in-one has been achieved at the Highlands Golf and Country Club, Aurora. The stroke was performed by Art Kneeshaw of Bradford on the ninth hole a week ago Wednesday. The ninth hole is a tricky, 120 yards, par three. A pond provides a difficult hazard. Mr. Kneeshaw was accompanied by Ruth Kilkenny and Art Evans, both of Bradford.

WORK STARTED

Newmarket — Work was started on new sidewalks this week on Andrew St. in the Armitage Heights subdivision. Yesterday workmen were on the preliminary stages of sidewalks on the north side of the street.

Child Spots Fire Turns In Alarm

Aurora — Last Saturday morning fire damaged the home of William Waite to the extent of over $3,000. Credited with saving the house from more extensive damage was Trevor Yate, 11-year-old neighbor, who noticed the fire in its early stages.

Young Yate and Marilyn Waite were playing on the front porch of the Waite house when the blaze started. "I heard the crackle of the fire, and looked up towards the roof. Smoke was pouring out and flames were starting to shoot up," said Trevor. "I rushed to tell Mrs. Waite, who was in the house alone, and she asked me to turn in the alarm."

Neighbors helped to remove some of the Waite's household furniture. Mr. Waite, a member of the reserve army, was away at Camp Petawawa at the time of the fire. He was due home Sunday. The fire is thought to have started in the chimney. Mrs. Waite was burning some rubbish in the fireplace when the fire occurred. Damage from flames was confined to the roof.

Friends and neighbors have come to the assistance of the Waite family since the fire. Mr. and Mrs. Waite are staying with her brother, Joseph Stephenson of Gurnett St., while their two daughters are living at the home of Mrs. Maude Hodgkinson on Wellington St. east. The two Waite boys live at their fire-guarded home, but have meals at Mrs. Hodgkinson's home.

Plane Drops Lucky Hats At Mt. Albert Sports Day

Mount Albert — The fourth annual sports day was held by the Mount Albert branch of the Canadian Legion on Monday when there was a fair crowd in the afternoon and a good evening crowd. During the afternoon the crowd was entertained by Andy Cuthbert's clown band while a series of baseball games was going on and other features such as a model T car parking contest and free hats strewn out for children from an airplane.

In the evening entertainment was centered around a professional stage show from Toronto.

Thornhill were winners of the baseball series of three games when Newmarket Vets, Hope, Mount Albert and Thornhill entered. In a similar public school series, Zephyr won out against Brownhill, Hope and Mount Al-

'MUTT' SHOW NEW FEATURE OF LIONS EVENT

Newmarket — A new feature of the annual two-day Lions club carnival and dance will be the "mutt" show when there will be cash prizes for the winning dogs of the community.

There is no concern with pedigree or registration papers in the mutt show. The pooches will be judged in the following classes only: largest dog, smallest dog, best dressed dog, dog with the longest tail, dog with the shortest tail, best trick dog, fastest eating dog. There is every indication that the latter class will draw the largest entry and be the closest competition.

The annual Lions carnival and dance is the major fund raising project of the club and the proceeds are used for welfare work. The carnival will be held on August 17, the dance August 18. Norm Burling and his Kingsmen will provide the music.

As usual the carnival will feature the entertaining Tent Show with the first show of the evening free to children. Other features include games and bingo.

DOUBLES WIN

Holland Landing — Mrs. M. Cooke of Holland Landing was the winner of $138 radio program prize on Monday night. The program which is sponsored by Maher Shoe stores "doubled her money" through her purchase at the Newmarket store making the $138 total.

Police Seek Murder Clues Along No. 11 Highway, Bradford

Bradford — The province-wide manhunt for the killer who ruthlessly murdered a young Toronto couple early Tuesday is centering around Bradford and along highway 11 as police attempt to discover the identity of the cold-blooded killer.

Late Wednesday it was learned that employees of a Bradford hotel and a Bradford restaurant had seen Mr. and Mrs. McKay early Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith McKay left Minesing, near Barrie, where they had spent the weekend, around 9 p.m., Monday night. Tuesday afternoon McKay's bullet-ridden body was discovered in a bush-shrouded vacant lot in North York. Wednesday morning Toronto Police came upon the McKay car in the Christie Street hospital parking lot. The McKay's spaniel was sitting mournfully on guard by the side of the car. Inside the car police discovered the bruised and bullet-filled body of Gloria McKay lying face-down on the rear seat floor of the car.

As the gory details of the heinous crime were revealed the most intensive manhunt in the history of the province went into high gear. Heading the investigation are Det.-Sgt. William Franks, Toronto City Police, Inspector W. J. Franks, C.I.B., Queen's Park, and Deputy Chief John Harrison, North York Police.

Joe Glista, waiter in a Bradford hotel, revealed that he may have seen the McKays Monday evening. He told of a couple who came into the beverage room sometime between 9 and 10 p.m. They were alone. "The man ordered two ales, while the woman had a lager," he said. "They stayed less than half an hour." Mr. Glista's description of the man tallied closely with that of McKay.

The big attendance prize of $50 was won by Joyce Pyle, Cedar Valley; $10 by Wilma Harden, Newmarket; $10 by Bruce Coates, Holt, and $5 by Mrs. W. Wilnot, Sharon. Another program attracted prize of $5 was won by Roy Stewart, Mount Albert.

An aircraft swooped down over Mount Albert park during the afternoon and dropped hats for all the children. Three of the hats held lucky numbers which brought the three youngsters who picked them up, $1 apiece. The model T Ford car parking contest was won by Bill Mitchell, Mount Albert, and brought him $5.

Legion officials said that a larger crowd could have been expected in the afternoon but on the whole, the sports day was successful.

Strain Becoming 'Unbearable' Schomberg Residents Urge Action On Highway Improvements

REMAND BLANDY WHEN WITNESS ABSENT

Newmarket — Charged with manslaughter following the truck-car accident near Schomberg which claimed the lives of five Hamilton residents, Adam Blandy appeared in Newmarket court last Thursday.

Due to the failure of an important witness for the crown to appear the hearing was adjourned, with consent of defence counsel E. C. Gerhart, until September.

COMITTEE RESUMES WORK

Newmarket — After a month's holidays the Parcels for Britain Committee has resumed its work at the depot this week. Mrs. M. B. Seldon said that the next shipment will be sent on August 29. Anyone wishing to send parcels overseas must have them at the depot prior to that date to avail themselves of this service.

Police Seek Murder Clues Along No. 11 Highway, Bradford

Waitress in a Bradford restaurant, Georgina Talley, told of noticing a woman, similar to Mrs. McKay, between 10 and 11 p.m. that night. "I noticed her dimples," said Miss Talley. "They showed even when she wasn't smiling or laughing." She couldn't recall who was with the woman but was certain that she was accompanied.

Police, meanwhile, have requested the co-operation of all citizens. Wednesday evening they issued a request that anyone who had seen or thought they might have seen people re-

'Wheatland Day' Hailed Grand Success

Ontario's first Wheatland Day, held on Gordon Leitch's Leitchcroft Farm near Langstaff last week, was a field day for the farmers, for the children and for the province's farm implement dealers.

The big show, sponsored by York County Crop Improvement Association, attracted some 3,500 farmers. During the day they had a chance to compare different varieties of wheat, including Dawson's Golden Chaff and Cornell 595, the comparatively new wheat which has taken Ontario by storm in the past two or three years. And they had opportunity to compare the harvesting methods of half a dozen implement firms.

With large tents flanking the temporary main street between the two fields adjoining No. 7 highway, scores of units of power equipment lined up on display, upwards of a thousand cars parked in orderly fashion and people everywhere, this proved to be the largest agricultural field day ever staged in York county. As many remarked it looked like a real life sized county fair.

During the morning power spraying equipment was demonstrated before the rush for lunch at the three large refreshment booths. At one o'clock Clark Young of Milliken, chairman of the Wheatland Committee, called the gathering to order and all machinery demonstrations co-operated by closing down for the hour of addresses. Gordon C. Leitch, owner of Leitchcroft Farm, welcomed the guest speaker, Colonel the Hon. T. L. Kennedy minister of agriculture.

Other speakers were W. H. Waddell, director of winter wheat research at the Ontario Agricultural College, who outlined the tests being conducted on farms and at the college pointing out the excellent results being obtained by the loose smut resistant Cornell 595 variety. He introduced a distinguished visitor, Dr. H. H. Love, retired head of the plant breeding department of Cornell

117 Speeding Charges On Court Docket In Traffic Crack-Down

Newmarket — The efforts of police to curb this summer's heavy traffic toll were evidenced in Newmarket court last Friday. Out of 161 cases on the day's docket 117 were speeding summonses. Numerous others had been settled out of court and were not on the list.

Aurora police disclosed that in a one and one-half hour period they clocked 88 speeders travelling over 40 mph. Police all over York County are endeavoring to crack down on speed-happy motorists.

SEWERS PROGRESSING

Newmarket — The construction of sewers on Srigley St. which will service the camp subdivision area is progressing rapidly this week. The street has been well torn up from the bottom to the top of the Srigley St. east hill and traffic has been stopped on the thoroughfare.

sembling the McKays, or had seen the car or the McKay's dog Monday evening or Tuesday morning to contact any one of the three men whose names appear above. The fullest protection of identity was promised. Police felt that someone along the No. 11 highway route to Toronto may have seen the couple. The dog is a red cocker spaniel. The car is a 1942 Dodge sedan, black in color. It had a radio and aerial on the left side, a white or light grey steering wheel, checkered slip covers and white metal tire covers.

University in New York State, who developed the Cornell variety which was brought into Ontario in 1946. At that time, through the York County Crop Improvement Association, 27 growers in the county secured seed for five acres each in the 50 Bushel Wheat Club. Dr. Love spoke on the excellent relationship between Canada and U.S.A. and the various universities.

Chairman Young then introduced several prominent visitors as well as the president of the association, Clifford Wallwork, who had been featured that day on a farm broadcast on potato growing. A. H. Martin, director of the Ontario crops branch, complimented the local association and announced the Conservation Day at Brooklin on September 8. Professor J. R. Scott of the agricultural engineering department of the O.A.C. then introduced each of the seven makes of combines which in turn took the bow by rolling forward to the edge of the wheat field. On a pre-arranged signal all combines attacked their reed.

WESTWARD HO!

Town Moves Towards Yonge St.

Newmarket — Many strangers to Newmarket have asked why the town does not develop westward to Yonge St. They say they can't see why a town of its size would be just a mile from such a large thoroughfare.

From most appearances, with 63 new houses erected on the western boundary in the last year or two, it would indicate that at least residential sections will have linked the town with Yonge St. in a few years, if the present building pace is kept up.

On Eagle St., 50 new low rental houses have been completed in the last year and the town owns still more land west of this new subdivision which could be available for additional building. Besides the subdivision, two fine

Shrink From Sound Of Brakes, Cries Of Hurt

Schomberg — Aroused over the condition of highway 27, the people of Schomberg and district announced over the holiday weekend that a petition is being prepared for presentation to the Ontario Department of Highways requesting that the present dangerous condition of highway 27 be eliminated immediately.

Highway 27 has in the past been the scene of many accidents, narrow, winding, and with dangerous curves and knolls, it exacts a heavy toll from traffic, especially over weekends.

In recent weeks there have been a large number of accidents, especially in the stretch of highway between the entrance to Schomberg and highway 9. Only a little over three weeks ago five people met their death in a head-on collision on Cemetery Hill. Strain Unbearable

Residents along this highway have found the strain unbearable. A number are considering selling their property and moving away. Monday an accident occurred within a few yards of the spot where the five were killed a short time ago. Grim and silent, the people of the area stood by as police attempted to clear the wreckage. Some trembled from the strain and were removed to their homes on the verge of hysterics.

"I'm becoming a nervous wreck," said Miss Clare Sproule Monday. Miss Sproule lives opposite the scene of Monday's accident. "There is an accident a day along this section of the highway," she continued. "Time after time cars smash up and people lie dead and injured at my very doorstep. My fence is almost demolished from cars and trucks that have been forced to take to the ditch to avoid an accident. If it does not soon stop I intend to move away."

Others feel as Miss Sproule does. Time and time again they have heard the screech of brakes, the ear-splitting crash of grinding, twisting, tortured steel, followed by a brief silence and then cries and screams of the injured and dying. Time and time again they have had to rush out and remove the injured from the wreckage and carry them to their very doorsteps.

This has produced a state of constant fear among these people. Sleep and peace of mind

Prominent Auroran W. J. Sisman Dies

Aurora — A prominent Auroran businessman, William Joseph Sisman, died last Sunday. He was in his 60th year. Raised in Toronto, Quebec, Markham and Aurora, Mr. Sisman joined his father's firm in Aurora in 1912, following two years' banking experience. For two years he held the position of office manager, after which he became secretary-treasurer of the firm. Following the death of his father, Mr. T. Sisman, in 1931, he was appointed as president. Mr. Sisman was largely responsible for the development of the Sisman Scamper, a popular summer shoe. A life member of the Rising Sun Masonic Lodge, Aurora, Mr. Sisman was active in lodge work and for many years was on the board of management of the Aurora United church.

In the late 1920's and early 30's, Mr. Sisman was an active member of the Summit Golf club, winning cups and trophies in competition on numerous occasions. He was also an ardent fisherman. For many years he was an active member of the Shoe manufacturer's Association. Despite failing health, Mr. Sisman took an active part in business until ill health forced his retirement in 1947.

He is survived by his wife, the former Lois Bond, Aurora; a son, John, and two daughters, Patricia and Mrs. Douglas Clark, all of Aurora; three grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. R. Linton, Midland, and Mrs. G. T. Bishop, London, Ont.; and two brothers, Frank, Hamilton, and Herbert, Aurora. Interment was in Aurora cemetery Wednesday afternoon following services at Thompson's Funeral Home.

are impossible. Automatically they steel themselves for the inevitable crash each time brakes squeal.

Three weeks ago Dudley Heacock helped take care of the injured in the crash which took the lives of the five Hamiltonians. "We expect to see an accident practically every minute of the day and night," he said. "It's nervously upsetting, especially for my wife. She can't stand much more of it and we may be forced to sell the farm and move."

Evidence to further substantiate the claim that this section of highway is highly dangerous came when Schomberg constable Arthur Moody was struck by a car while assisting Provincial Constable Victor Proctor at the scene of Monday's accident. Knocked to the ground, Moody fortunately escaped serious injury.

Constable Proctor regards Cemetery Hill as a "death trap." "It is the worst section of our whole detail and should be retained 'Calamity Hill.'" According to residents, 15 to 20 accidents occur each weekend. The appalling accident record has jammed Schomberg garages to the doors with wrecked cars.

Garage operator William Metcalfe feels that "highway 27 might have been wide enough in the horse and buggy days, but not now." Only slightly over 17 feet in width, it consists in part of deceiving knolls and dips and is unmarked from Schomberg north to Highway 9. Schomberg resident A. R. Forth now refuses to drive on highway 27 and detours out of his way to avoid it. "The highway north from the Kleinburg turn should be widened and straightened out," he said. "Hills should be cut down and the curves removed where possible and banked."

Postmaster for Schomberg, E. G. Lloyd, is of the opinion that the turn into Schomberg from highway 27 is highly dangerous. "Cars are hidden from view and many close shaves have resulted," he stated. "Adequate markings, a clear view and a cautionary light are essential if we are to avoid appalling accidents similar to those of recent weeks."

First Service Held In St. Paul's Church

VANDORF

A group of Gideons from Portland, Oregon, presented a very inspiring service in Wesley United church Sunday, July 31, with Mr. George Hacking, who formerly lived at Vandorf when just a young man, as the guest speaker. About 45 friends and neighbors attended the basket lunch and program which consisted of our guests telling us of their most wonderful experiences, of the work the Gideons are doing, and several musical numbers. The occasion took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Richardson.

Mr. George Hacking, Portland, Oregon, Mr. Peter Helland, Seaside, Oregon, Mr. B. H. Reehar, Forest Grove, Oregon, Mrs. Ethel Hacking, Aurora, Mrs. L. Bostwick and Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Willson were supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Steven Komar on Sunday.

Mr. Charlie Williamson, Brandon, Man., is visiting his sister, Mrs. Louise Bostwick.

Misses Maude and Louise Richardson, Newmarket, and Miss Anna Smith, Aurora, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Richardson and family.

Congratulations to Miss Betty Richardson who won the second prize, a breakfast suite, at the Lions club carnival in Aurora.

Please note the change of home for the Women's Institute meeting. It will be held at the home of Mrs. C. Ball instead of Mrs. A. Richardson. More details next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Scott and daughters, Donna and Linda, spent the Civic holiday with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kingdon and Bill.

Mr. and Mrs. James Oliver, Miss Ruth Oliver and Miss Nellie Doyle, Toronto, are holidaying at Lakewood, Muskoka.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Sleeth and son, Russell, and Mrs. Stanford, Brantford, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Sleeth on Monday.

Miss Ruth Sleeth spent two weeks visiting friends at Orangeville.

Mr. Angus Grant, Orangeville, visited at the Sleeth home last week.

Miss Ruth Sleeth is taking a business course in Toronto.

Mrs. Percy Allin, Aurora, spent Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. H. Oliver, and Mr. Oliver.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Rose and Mr. Albert Dunn were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. Aylett.

Miss Audrey Switzer, who spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Switzer, left Monday for Montreal and Haliburton for her two weeks' vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce MacQuarrie, Miss Jean Walker and Mr. George Van Nostrand spent the holiday weekend at Green Island, Parry Sound.

We are sorry to hear of Miss Marion Van Nostrand's misfortune of injuring her foot while she was teaching at C.G.I.T. camp which has caused her to cancel her trip to Mexico.

Military air photography has revealed two large uncharted islands off Baffin's Land. They are covered with moss and lichen.

KETTLEBY

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Garry DeVries on the arrival of their first born son on Tuesday, July 26, also to the proud grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. DeVries, Sr., who are their first grandchild and to Mr. Roy Sharpe who is the other proud grandpa.

Sorry to hear Mr. Frank Beatty is ill. We all wish him a speedy recovery.

Our vicar, Rev. F. V. Abbott, is enjoying a month's holiday, but services will go on as usual. We hope our members will all support the preachers who will be taking the services during absence.

Christ church Ladies' Guild will meet at the home of Mrs. H. Gritten, Pottageville, on Tuesday, August 9, at 10.30 a.m. Christ church Sunday-school will be closed during the month of August.

Carl W. Proctor has just returned home after spending ten days holidaying in the states of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, returning by way of Windsor.

Service next Sunday at Christ church will be at 9.45 a.m.

Keswick Optimists Have 32 Members

Keswick—The charter night of Keswick's new Optimist club was a big success. Thirty-six Optimists from sister clubs were in attendance, Peterborough and Windsor being the two most distant clubs to send representatives.

Vice president of Optimist International, Frank Mallory, acted as chairman. Governor of 15th district of Optimist International, Dr. Don Twiss, presented the charter. Past governor Miller gave the main address of welcome. Frank B. Eagleson, past district governor of Toronto, installed the new officers, Clifford Osborne of Toronto Downtown club, John Field of Oakville and Dr. Roy Hewson, Brantford, made presentations of the Union Jack, the Stars and Strips and Gong and Gavel respectively.

J. C. Purdy, past district secretary governor, acted as master of ceremonies.

The club was chartered with 32 members and everyone is enthusiastic.

The first regular meeting of the Optimist club after its chartering will be held at Marabel Lodge, Craigmar Beach, Wednesday evening at 7 p.m. President Clate Purdy is out to make Keswick club an outstanding attendance club in the district. Every member out and on time is emphasized.

The ball game Saturday night delighted a large crowd. Ross Johnson pitching for the Four Square club put on a quiet, unassuming demonstration of remarkable pitching but had favorable comments about the Keswick seniors, the opposing team. Roydon Connell especially was credited with the eye of a hawk.

Approve Exemptions On Memorial Donations

Keswick — Tax exemption has been granted on contributions to the North Gwillimbury Memorial Association Community Centre according to a letter sent the campaign executive. The letter is signed by J. S. Forsyth for the deputy minister (taxation).

"You are advised that amounts actually donated to the North Gwillimbury Memorial Association for the purpose specified and evidenced on the receipt may be claimed as a deduction in determining the taxable income of the donor," the letter reads.

produced 208 as the winning number. It has not been claimed as yet. If you have 26 or 900 step up in line. The whole affair was a great credit to the Four Square club and their contribution to the memorial building fund is greatly appreciated.

Mrs. J. C. Purdy entertained Russell Johnson and Mike Gavi-can who so graciously gave their services to help the memorial fund along. We can look for them back again at some future game. They were enthusiastic over our community effort to provide such excellent accommodation for the physical development of our boys and young men.

Everyday there are dozens of visitors to the new memorial building and exclamations of surprise and pleasure are heard everywhere. More financial aid is seriously needed.

Keswick Optimists Have 32 Members

Keswick—The charter night of Keswick's new Optimist club was a big success. Thirty-six Optimists from sister clubs were in attendance, Peterborough and Windsor being the two most distant clubs to send representatives.

Vice president of Optimist International, Frank Mallory, acted as chairman. Governor of 15th district of Optimist International, Dr. Don Twiss, presented the charter. Past governor Miller gave the main address of welcome. Frank B. Eagleson, past district governor of Toronto, installed the new officers, Clifford Osborne of Toronto Downtown club, John Field of Oakville and Dr. Roy Hewson, Brantford, made presentations of the Union Jack, the Stars and Strips and Gong and Gavel respectively.

J. C. Purdy, past district secretary governor, acted as master of ceremonies.

The club was chartered with 32 members and everyone is enthusiastic.

The first regular meeting of the Optimist club after its chartering will be held at Marabel Lodge, Craigmar Beach, Wednesday evening at 7 p.m. President Clate Purdy is out to make Keswick club an outstanding attendance club in the district. Every member out and on time is emphasized.

The ball game Saturday night delighted a large crowd. Ross Johnson pitching for the Four Square club put on a quiet, unassuming demonstration of remarkable pitching but had favorable comments about the Keswick seniors, the opposing team. Roydon Connell especially was credited with the eye of a hawk.

Weekly Garden-Graph

If you are planting fruit trees this fall in the home yard, or planning to do so next spring, here are a few transplanting tips which should prove practical and profitable.

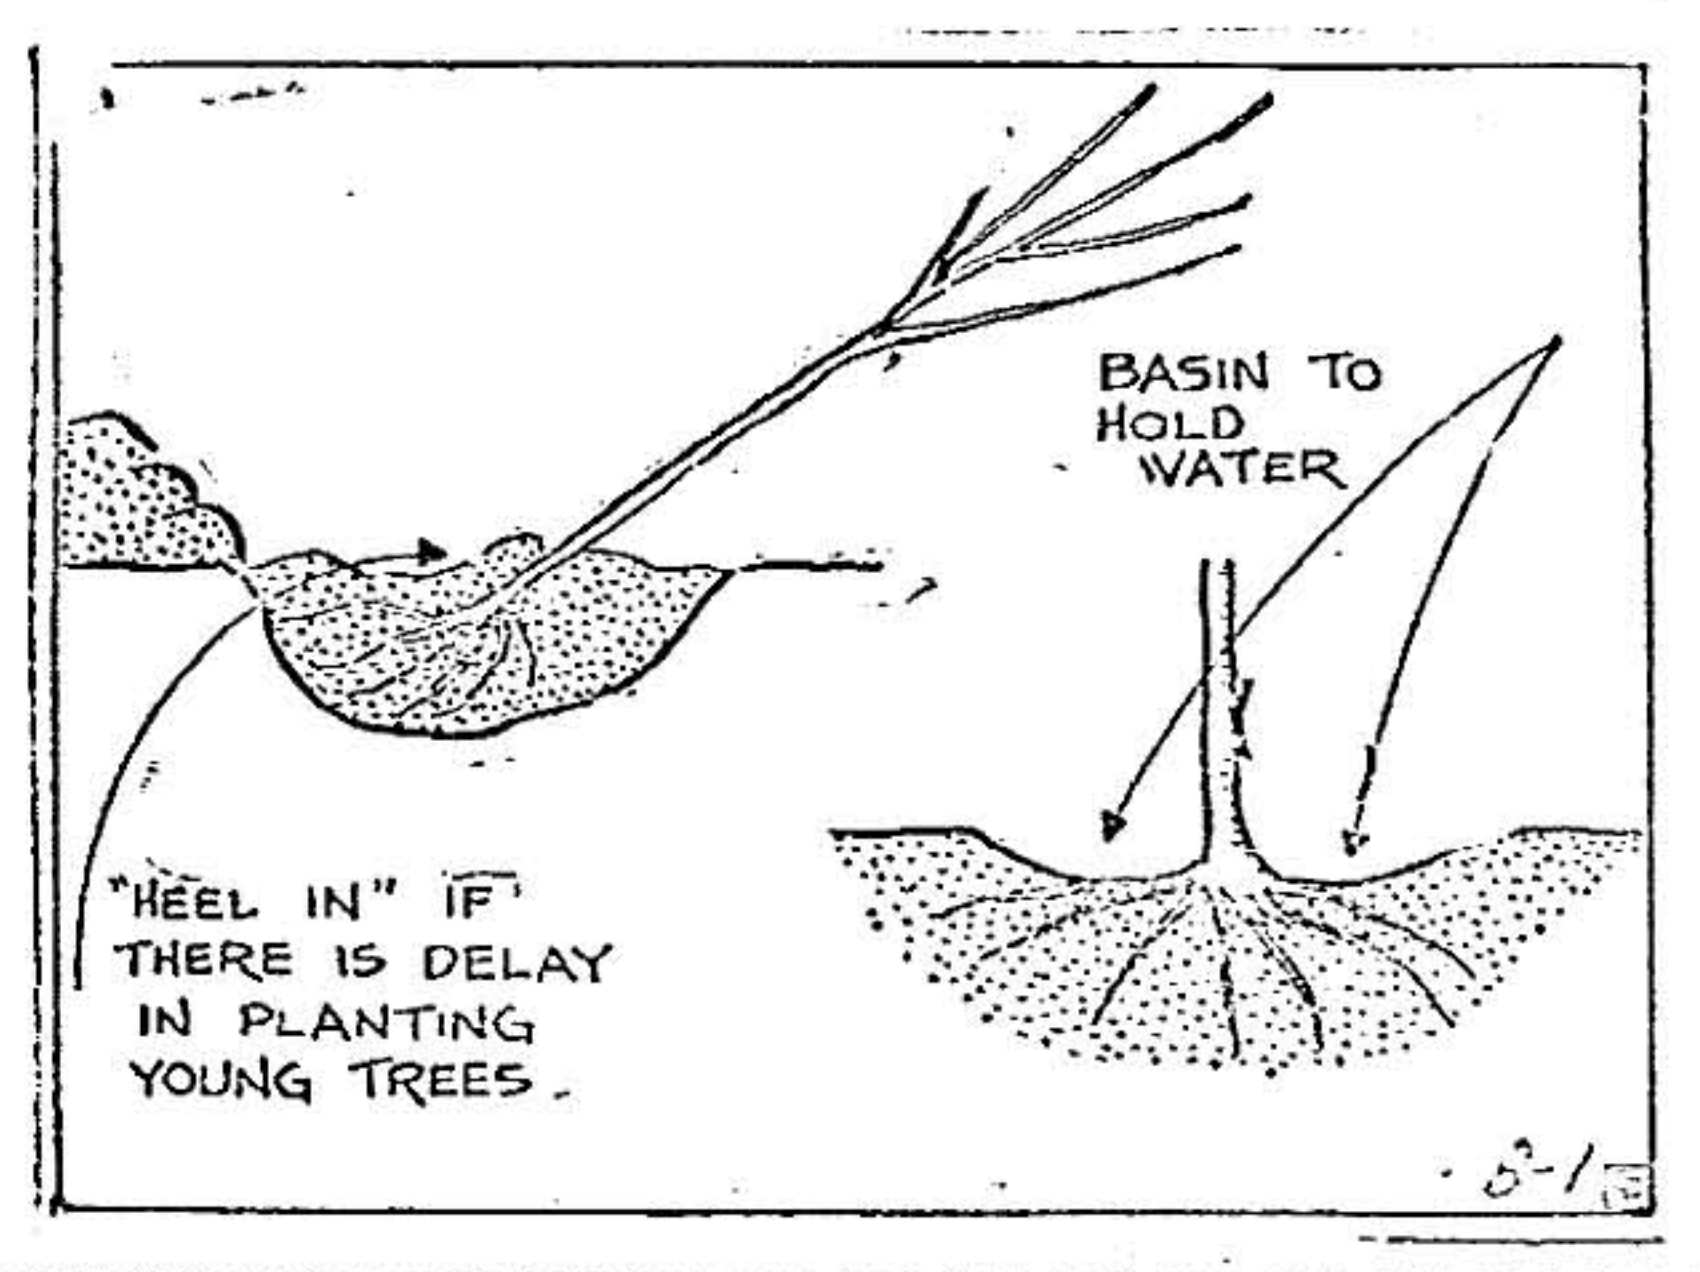

It is always best to transplant young trees on a cloudy, cool day, because, when planting, it is never wise to expose the roots to wind or sun. Wind on the roots is even more disastrous than sun.

When young trees arrive from the nursery it is good policy to soak their roots thoroughly and keep them wet until planted. If a delay of more than two days is necessary before the trees can be planted, it will be best to "heel in" the stock, as illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph. This means digging a trench, laying in the young trees on a slant, and then covering the roots with earth.

Putting a lot of water in the hole just before planting the tree is not good practice. It is apt to puddle the soil, which then bakes hard as it dries out. The water should be allowed to drain away and the hole should be free of standing water before a tree is planted. Plenty of good, mellow earth should be packed in among the roots so that no cavities are left.

When the earth is filled in around the roots, it should be tramped down gently, then more earth put in and also tramped down. Plenty of water should be poured over this and more earth should be put on top. This earth should not be tramped down, however, as tramping on soil when it is wet tends to cause it to bake.

Do not make the common mistake of "hilling" earth around the trunk of the tree. This sheds water away from the roots. Instead, leave a shallow basin-shaped depression around the trunk, as illustrated. This will hold water, allowing it to soak down to the roots.

FROG TALK

Don't you like to see your prophecies fulfilled? I don't mean the kind of person who loves to say "I told you so!" But so many folk were feeling badly about Fairley Lake that I tried, in a recent article, to reassure them and tell them we certainly would have our dear old pond back very soon, even better than before. And so we have!

If you do not believe me, go and have a look. It is really back, and filling up again nicely. We were told that until September or maybe a bit later, it would again be the pretty Fairley Lake of old—and after we have a few degrees of frost, another attempt will be made to deepen it again—take it out in chunks, frozen chunks.

Last Saturday evening we took a walk along the north bank from the dam to the railroad track, and oh was it beautiful! So still and glassy—with all the stars reflected in it, and the lovely willows along the west bank—you really could not tell which was shadow and which was reality. I thought how very pleased those who live above it on Prospect Ave. south must feel to see the pond there as of other days.

As we stood watching the reflection of the stars and the willows and of lighted windows at the waterworks and those on the east shore, an old bull-frog in the centre somewhere sang out "Billy Canute, Billy Canute"—away to the east came the answer "Ker-ump, ker-ump"—then to the west just as plain as could be "Better-go-round, better go 'round"—and I laughed

Queensville History Told At W.I. Meeting

Queensville — The ladies of the Queensville Women's Institute met on Wednesday, July 27, at the home of Mrs. Floyd Cunningham. Under the shade of cool trees, the roll call was answered by the receipt of "our favorite summer salad." The short course on modern dress-making will be from Sept. 19 to 23, and all those who are interested in taking this worthwhile project are to get in touch with Mrs. Floyd Cunningham, Mrs. J. D. Murrell or Mrs. Harry Leadbetter. Please register before Aug. 30.

Donations were voted, one of $100 to the Queensville arena to pay for a more decorative front, and the balance to help equip the ladies' rest-room. Also, $10 was voted to go to the Newmarket Women's Institute rest-room.

After the business Mrs. Sidney Thompson gave an interesting paper on historical research, covering the history of the village of Queensville, the township of East Gwillimbury and the County of York. It was most appropriate at this time because of our second field day of Aug. 13 coming up. This is what Mrs. Thompson told us about the early history of Queensville.

There seems to be very little record of the early history of Queensville. It was first called Hackett's Corners after William Hackett who built the second store at the Corners in 1841. This was located where Mr. Norman Gibney's house now stands. Mr. Hackett later built a store across the road where right out and called back "Better go 'round than fall into the ditch." There was a dead silence, as we stood there watching, waiting, when again they started, "Ker-ump, Billy Canute, better-go-round." It really was funny—those voices coming out of the dark water covered with those wonderful shadows. I turned and said "My aren't the frogs glad!" So we laughed and left them to their enjoyment.

I wonder how many saw that splendid article and photo in the Toronto Telegram of July 23, telling about the Holland Marsh. One thing that I thought should have been mentioned was the part Professor Day played in its development. Maybe somebody who knows the facts and figures will write an article for this paper some day. It will make interesting reading. That article I mentioned is an eye-opener to many who have never heard or seen our Holland Marsh.

As long ago as 1932 it was "famous." A friend of ours was visiting here with us—a friend from New York City—and we wanted to show her Ontario. Lake Simcoe, both east side and west, are grand show-off places—and the day we went up the west side, along Highway No. 11, along Yonge St. we slowed up and pointed out our famous reclaimed Holland Marsh. Told what Professor Day had accomplished—showed her the celery and lettuce growing in the black, black soil and told about the draining of it, and the dyke, as much as was known in that far-away time. All of a sudden she sat up straight and was looking at some lettuce crates, and said, "Why this is where the head lettuce comes from that I get in our market in New York!"

We were surprised too, but for a different reason—we had no idea it had anything but a local market, no farther I mean than Toronto. Small world!

We drove 'round through Gamble woods last week, home again by Glenville and the Marsh, coming out just north of Bradford River. The growth, in spite of the dry weather, was amazing—fields and fields of wonderful onions. And the homes all along through the Marsh—cozy, comfortable-looking homes, schools, churches. And 20 years or so ago, nothing but swamp!

And here's another thing that caught our attention. Earlier on in the season, we went out the Gamble road for a drive and were astonished to see a sign "No Trespassing" on our favorite "look-out," and four large square pillars of cement blocks on the very edge overlooking the deep ravine. Well—there's a building on those four corner blocks now—what a view they will have! There are quite a few homes going up out that way, but the Gamble woods of my earliest recollections is vanishing bit by bit. Well—we still have memories.

And now one more item of interest. A friend of ours and from the west who lived here as a small girl, saw the Holland Landing anchor again after all these years. The park really is a beautiful spot and we all should be grateful that the government saw fit to leave the old anchor there. It was being taken up Yonge St. to Penetang where there was a military base and ship-yard, to be used on a man-of-war against the Americans on Lake Huron. Peace was declared as the teamsters, with it in a sleigh, got to Holland Landing, so they just dumped it off—and there it is still. It is 10 feet long and weighs over 4,000 pounds. It was forged in Chatham, Eng.

the present store is located, now owned by Mr. Wm. Burkholder.

"Mr. James Aylward was proprietor of the first store in the village. He came from Ireland in 1822. He taught school in Scarborough for four years and then came to the corners where he was engaged as the teacher for five years. The first school house was erected on the north-west side of the corners and is now used as an implement shed on the farm of William Wright. From 1842 to 1843 a singing class was taught in the school by Enos Doan and in 1842 the first Temperance society was formed in this section. After Mr. Aylward finished teaching he kept store and the post office, which began May 21, 1851—98 years ago and was kept by the family for 60 years. About the year 1843 the settlers were desirous of getting a suitable name for the village and several names were suggested and finally the postmaster's wife named it Queensville.

"Other buildings later erected in the village were two hotels, one on each corner, the Farmer's Inn and the Queen's, Morley's Grist Mill on Mill St., also a shoe shop which was kept by Wright Fogg and a copper shop where pails, tubs, etc., were made and a harness shop on Main St. which was run by George Fogg. There were four blacksmith's shops, MacKenzie's, Terry's, Milne's and Fiddle's.

"The one remaining shop in the village used to be located where the Presbyterian church now stands and was owned by Mr. Alexander Milne. He sold it to Mr. Terry who had it moved to its present site and it was torn down in January, 1949. There were several churches: the Episcopal Methodist situated just south of the present United church; the Canada Methodist where Mrs. George Cole now lives; the Wesley and Primitive Methodist was the building where the present cold storage locker is now.

"Mr. Byron Aylward started the first service station in 1920. There was the Kavanagh's butcher shop. Bill Morley's Grist mill was moved from Mill St. to Mount Albert. The first skating rink in the village was opened in 1909 and stood first at the north end of the village but was changed to its present location about 1922, and now moved to our new community park.

"In the spring of 1907 the Metropolitan Railway passed through the village linking it with Toronto and Sutton. This service was discontinued a few years ago and now we are serviced with buses. Today the village of Queensville is no longer a business centre, but a village populated by retired farmers, factory workers and a few business people."

Farm Philosopher says:

"OAT DISEASES ARE BEING LICKED"

Rust and lodging don't damage oats nearly as much as they once did—thanks to the good work of plant breeders at experimental farms and agricultural colleges. They are gradually developing high quality early and late maturing varieties which will resist disease; also varieties more suitable for combining. Both these institutions will help you solve difficult farm problems. You have only to ask.

The service of money is also important. Thousands of farmers have found a good friend in their branch manager of this Bank. You will find yours an experienced man, able to serve you well. F14-49

Pages from the Editor's Notebook

We spent the weekend and holiday in Midland, seeing the "Salute to Canada" observance of the tercentary of the martyrdom of the Jesuit missionaries, visiting Huronia House, and in general, enjoying all the sights that Midland offers the tourist.

The "Salute to Canada" was staged on the slope of a large hill to one side of the church. Four flat areas had been bulldozed in the side of the hill and they were used as stages. The "Salute" was staged at night. When a shift of scene was required by the script, the huge batteries of floodlights which lit the stage focused on another level and the spectacle continued without interruption.

The story was quite simple. It began with Huronia as it was before the coming of white men, the scene of constant warfare between Huron and Iroquois. It continued with the arrival of the white man and the missionary efforts of the Jesuits, culminating in the martyrdom of Brebeuf and his companions. The third act showed Canada as it is, how out of the ashes of the conquered nation of Huronia arose the Canada we have today.

The "Salute to Canada" was a colorful spectacle, well staged and acted. The second act was slow and we felt if the script had had the benefit of close editing, the show would have been better for it. We objected to the third act where mob scenes—parades of costumed actors to patriotic music across all four stages—were substituted for a story, as being "too American" in conception, as colorful as the act was.

However, when it is considered that the "Salute" was the first such observance to our knowledge, that it was an honest attempt to produce a valid piece of Canadiana, these criticisms are not important. Nor did we find true the criticism so often heard that it was a Roman Catholic show—no more, no less. The fact that Jesuits were the first missionaries among the Huron Indians made it impossible, of course, to ignore a Catholic flavor, but the members of the cast were drawn from every faith, and the author of the script made every effort to avoid religious bias.

If "Salute to Canada" was disappointing in some respects of its direction, it was highly successful in its efforts to portray the significance of one aspect of Canadian history in a manner easily understood. There cannot be enough praise for this growing emphasis upon things Canadian. It is to be hoped that the precedent at Midland will be followed by other observances where the land is rich in Canadian history.

From the Files of 25 and 50 Years Ago

There was an unusually large market last Saturday especially in fruits and vegetables. Prices of butter and eggs were inclined to advance. Dressed chickens were scarce but a lot of live chickens and ducks offered. Eggs were 28-34 cents a doz., butter 32-35 cents a lb. Dressed chickens brought 25 cents a lb., and live spring chickens also 25 cents. New potatoes were 50 cents a small basket, cauliflower, 10-15 cents each and strawberries 10 cents a box or 3 for 25 cents. Cherries sold from 25 to 30 cents a small basket, red currants 10 cents a box, black currants 15-18 cents a box and gooseberries 10 cents a qt.

Mrs. J. Tinegate, Collingwood, has returned to her home after spending three weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Sanderson.

Tomorrow, Rev. P. Graham, Messrs. James Bond, G. Travis, W. Epworth, and Cecil Bond leave by motor on a trip of over 1,000 miles to the State of Iowa. They expect to be gone two weeks.

There were 110 at Idlewild, Orchard Beach, for both dinner and supper on Sunday, some Americans. The boarding house is booked full for next weekend.

A number of young ladies of the First Christian church, Toronto, gave a surprise miscellaneous shower for Miss Mabel Weddel, formerly of Newmarket, one evening last week, on the approach of her marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. James Oldham, Mount Albert, held their annual reunion picnic at their private park, Fernlawn, last Friday afternoon. Those present included: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Meek, Dr. and Mrs. S. S. Ball, Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Oldham, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Oldham and their families and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Mustard. Several guests were also present: Rev. and Mrs. Bailey and family, Mrs. Hutchinson, and Miss Jennie and Mr. Jagger Oldham. The afternoon was spent in boating, racing, swimming and games of ball.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. McManus and three children, Kenora, are visiting relatives in town.

The Boy Scouts have been organized in Newmarket and a charter has been received. The Scout Master is Rev. Percy Graham, pastor of the Christian church, and his assistants are W. Epworth, Jack Young and Alex. Robinson. There are 22 Boy Scouts and 26 Wolf Cubs. The Scouts go to camp on Monday at the Pines, near the Jersey River.

An ordinary market on Saturday. The demand for butter still continues and as high as 17 cents was paid; 15 and 16 cents a lb. was the usual price. Eggs were firm at 12 and 13 cents. Large quantities of raspberries sold at 4 and 5 cents a lb., or 6 cents by the box. Thimbleberries were 10 cents a box, red currants, 5 cents a qt., and black, 10 cents a qt. Cucumbers were one cent each.

Messrs. J. R. Y. Broughton, Vet. Richardson and Alex. Christie are on a two weeks' cruise among the Muskoka lakes in a sailboat.

Work on the Metropolitan is still delayed because of lack of ties. The poles are erected to the waterworks and the electricians expect to have all the wiring done in a day or so. President Warren was in town last Saturday and stated that the first car would be run to Newmarket on August 12 if not before.

Mr. Freeman Toole, Whitechurch, sent in a sample of oats to the office on Saturday which measured 5' 5" in height without the roots and was heavily loaded with grain.

Mr. Wm. Ronnie, who has been principal of Newmarket Model School for 26 years, has retired. He intends taking a rest for the time being.

The old sheds and part of the old dry kiln at the rear of Cane's Factory have been cleared away and the masons are at work on the foundation of the new lumber dry kiln.

Miss Birdie Fogg, Chicago, is spending her holidays with her cousin, Mrs. D. M. Lepard, Millard Ave.

Mr. J. G. Strigley is going into the hotel business having received a transfer of license for the Bracondale Hotel near Toronto.

The Editorials:

Tourist Value Ignored

Midland's happy situation on the shores of Georgian Bay makes it a popular tourist centre. Midland merchants benefit greatly from the tourist trade, and such steps as the establishment of a municipal trailer camp and a tourist information bureau have been taken to maintain this business. The town is fortunate too in its historic environment. At nearby Martyr's Shrine, Brebeuf and Lalement were martyred 300 years ago, and the whole district is rich in the evidence of Canada's early history.

Of immediate local importance is that the people of Midland have realized the value of their environment as an additional tourist attraction, as well as a research ground for students of history. Huronia House, a museum of Simcoe county relies, has been established within the town and its location and contents are well publicized.

Central York county has not the natural tourist attractions that Midland has, but a major tourist route runs through the centre of it. The county has its share of history, but there is little or no evidence that any effort has been made to bring these historical associations before the visitor. The indifference, towards Sharon Temple as a tourist attraction is a case in point. Located beside a highway which carries the lakeshore traffic, it is easily accessible and well stocked with relics of the county's past. There is little or nothing, however, to indicate its history or attractions to the passerby.

We wonder at the contradiction of providing a museum within a historic building and then doing as little as possible to encourage visitors to it. Perhaps it is a reticence about the past, a feeling that to make a display of any sort is to be vulgar, which dictates this state of affairs. Perhaps it is merely indifference. Or perhaps it is simply a failure to appreciate the immense attraction such historic grounds have for the visitor.

Properly publicized, Sharon Temple could become such an attraction to visitors that the income from the museum would materially assist in the preservation of the countless other historic sites in this region. All about us, historical sites are falling into decay or are being absorbed in some new endeavor simply for the lack of funds or interest to maintain them. If we value our past, we must act swiftly to preserve it. The funds from tourists offer the simplest way of doing so.

Unity In Conservation

The cause of conservation has drawn to its banner many enthusiasts, well meaning in their efforts but a hindrance to a practical approach to the problems which must be faced. This multiplicity of effort, with its inevitable waste of time, money and patience, seems to extend through all levels from farmer subjected to ill-informed advice of his neighbor to government departments, each with a crusader's belief in the rightness of their approach.

A good example is the situation which has developed upon the Grand River where, for 15 years, a conservation commission has dealt with the problems of flood control and related conservation practices. Under its administration, a dam costing some $2 million was built. For the past two years, there has also been a Grand River Conservation Authority, established under the department of planning and development. Both bodies have essentially the same purpose.

The only reason for the establishment of the authority seems to be that the department of planning and development will survey, at government cost, a watershed where an authority has been established. The Grand River now has an authority and so is having a survey done. It is curious that with an established conservation commission on the scene for the past 15 years, such a survey had to wait until the authority was established, even though the establishment of the authority will either duplicate the commission's efforts or raise fresh problems of overlapping administrations.

The department of agriculture, the department of planning and development, the department of public works and the department of lands and forests all have a share in conservation work on the provincial government level. In addition, there are numerous semi-official bodies, most of them planning organizations, and finally, private groups. The very nature of conservation requirements permit this variety of approach. The interest of the various government departments is self-explanatory but there is no explanation for the lack of understanding between them.

The cause of conservation transcends the immediate interests of its numerous supporters. Conservation is not the immediate concern of farmers only, nor town planners only, nor woodsmen and public utilities only. Conservation is a practice which extends into all these domains with varying emphasis. The difficulty lies in the tendency of one department to make secondary all needs but their own.

There is now a select committee of the Ontario legislature on conservation. The committee will travel throughout Ontario all summer gathering evidence on conservation. It will hear a brief from York county in early September. Together with evidence of soil erosion, lowering wells, and decline of wood lots, could it be possible to insert a strong plea for unified administration and leadership in conservation? Right now, an end to the confusion which exists would benefit the cause of conservation more than all the dams in the province.

Another Accident

Another head-on collision on the Schomberg road, close to the scene of the deaths of five travellers from Hamilton, makes it absolutely imperative that the highway be improved. The provincial police are quoted as having reported the condition of the highway several times in the past year, but no action has been taken. Mr. J. D. Millar, deputy minister of highways, remarks that "naturally, as the traffic on the highway has increased, there have been more accidents" but this is hardly an explanation for the heavy toll on that stretch of highway.

Mr. Millar says that more than a million dollars has been spent on that highway in three years, but the heavy accident rate on highway 27 from Nobleton to highway 9 just north of Schomberg is still an indisputable fact. If indeed the highway is so little improved despite such expenditures, it would be better closed to traffic than to be maintained at the risk of death or injury to the travellers. We wonder anew at the heavy expenditures on the new Barrie route if so little has been done to improve existing routes.

We understand the residents along the worst part of the highway are planning to petition the government to improve the highway. Perhaps now, an outraged public opinion will force what common sense has indicated all along, either reduction of through traffic by barriers at either end, or else widening and levelling of the highway at once.

Wheatland Day

The Wheatland Day at Leitcheroft Farm was a grand success, the interest shown by the farmers additional evidence (if more were needed) that they will attend and profit by practical demonstrations where they can watch and talk with their fellows and the experts. Congratulations must be offered the agricultural representative, Mr. W. M. Cockburn, and his staff, for the large share they undertook of the planning and directing of the demonstration, and the York County Crop Improvement Association for its sensible sponsorship of the event.

It has long been a complaint that farmers are loath to spend their time at meetings even when those meetings are closely connected with their welfare. Marketing meetings, federation meetings, farm forum meetings and numerous other gatherings, all with the advancement of agriculture's welfare as their primary purpose, have moments of local enthusiasm but the consistent support of these groups, so necessary to their existence, is often denied them. Possibly it is the distance between cause and effect which kills interest. It takes long years to ripen decisions made in local meetings into national policy enforced by legislation, and the passage of time frequently discourages high hopes. Quite often too, the farmer approaches these meetings with the conviction that no matter how right he may be, the odds are against recognition of his cause.

There are, however, none of these complications in a demonstration such as Wheatland Day. There is the wheat in the field. The farmer can make his comparisons of the different strains on the spot. There is the machinery in action in front of him. There is no theorizing here, no dependence upon another for advice. Step right up, men, and make your choice with your own eyes and your own judgment. How unfortunate it is that the other aspects of farming are less readily demonstrated. For who will deny that a sound marketing policy is as important as the action of a new binder?

A strong sense of community pride is immediately obvious in the Veterans' Land Act sub-division at the north-west corner of the town by its very appearance. Still more evidence is the formation of a property owners' association. First project of the organization is the raising of funds for a playground by means of a corn roast and dance.

Office Cat reports Catnips By Ginger

Well boss, here we are back again after two weeks' vacation and I must say it's not very inspiring to return to the drudgery of urban life. Oh, the hot sticky offices, grumpy people, bores, cramped places! Give me the wide open spaces, namely the bush country. That's where life is real, rough, ready and rip snortin'.

You know, two weeks is not quite enough holidays for my money, boss. During the first quarter of your allotted time, you feel as if you should be doing something like work. The second quarter you begin to realize you are free. By the third quarter, the novelty has worn off, and by the fourth quarter when you have just started to get your second wind you are cut off by the end of the two weeks. Those beautiful holidays have been choked at the peak of their glory.

Thus, boss, now is the time for me to say that by next year I should like more pay, shorter hours, more security, a special Ginger pension plan, a cut in the profits and most important of all, more holidays. I would settle for a whole month off and less arrowroot biscuits, thank you. You know I can raise a pretty big rumpus if I don't get my way around here.

I am reminded of a poem, by this, which I knocked off in a moment of vivid thought and which I sublimated into verse. It went something like this:

AN ALLERGY By Ginger

I would,
I think,
Into oblivion
Sink,
If I couldn't
Make a noise
Occasionally.

The boss,
I figure,
Makes the space
Bigger,
If I can
Make a noise
Occasionally.

By this Psychology,
I write
An allergy
If I can
Make a noise
Occasionally.

I can
Be vicious,
But not Malicious,
If I can
Make a noise
Occasionally.

by "Back Concession" The Top Six Inches

From the report that tells of a bush lot that was cut off and the neighbor's well level down four feet, we began to wonder how long it will take to become serious enough for some action to be taken. Will the boys and girls going along our roads to school be the ones to put conservation into effect? Should we start and teach in our schools and homes? To waste and destroy is to want.

When we look at our country school buildings, fences and yards, we see that there would be plenty of room for some lessons on not to destroy. Is it the teachers' or the parents' place to see that school property is not destroyed? In some townships the ratepayers are being asked to build new schools. The problem comes that the foster or boarding children are over-crowding our schools and that these children are responsible for the condition in which we find our schools—that the foster parents do not take enough interest in what the children do.

There is no way that the ratepayers can know who is at fault. We do know that when some of these children are spoken to, their answer is you can't do anything, we are protected by the society. There is a feeling in some community's that if not checked might prove embarrassing. Every child should have schooling. There is no suggestion that all children should not have full use and advantage of our schools and community. But it is thought that children could be taught in school as at home. To keep school buildings in repair and build new is real expense.

Books on child training and child psychology tell us that some children do things to draw attention. It might be some of our children break up our school buildings for this reason. In the past the teacher did not spare the rod when there was damage done at school, and a note went home and the parent started where the teacher left off. And there was no danger in spoiling the disposition of the child. It is too bad when children know this new theory of child training and take advantage.

Everyone should contribute some service to the community where they live. Some people have so little interest, but take all the advantage we have in our community. The policy of some is to take not to give. Those people, the why-don't-they-do people, are always kicking about what someone else should do. When we hear men and women say "it does not matter to me", we wonder what their home life was when they were young.

We can judge what the father and mother talk about in the home by what the children say. Some homes are all sport and cards. Others business, church work. Some can talk only money. Some women are slaves to a clean house. Do our schools teach our boys and girls to live? Does education bring up and out the powers of body and mind? Why do we have so few boys and girls coming out of school who will use their learning and education to help anyone other than themselves?

When we look at our community and the few that try to make it a better place to live in, we wonder what could be done if enough willed it so. It has been said that our education just starts when we leave school. That is, if we will it to be that way.

Our school children today will have our community problems in the future. When they take over will it be better or worse than what we have now? Our children do not want to work unless they are paid. Cheerio.

Conservation Practices Demonstrated On Farm

(Stouffville Tribune)

Plans to take care of a crowd of some 10,000 people at the Soil Conservation and Farm Improvement Field Day to be held on the farm of Heber Down, Brooklin, on September 8, is gathering momentum. Top-ranking agricultural experts of Ontario, including Col. the Hon. Thomas L. Kennedy, Minister of Agriculture, will be present, and it is expected that the official opening ceremony will be conducted by Hon. Leslie M. Frost, Premier of the province of Ontario. The tentative program of the day's activities, in which a five-year program of soil conservation and farm improvement practices will be inaugurated, was arranged, and this event, the first of its kind to be held in Canada, is expected to draw interested farmers and technical agriculturists from all parts of Ontario, as well as from neighboring states and from the province of Quebec.

Wide Range of Projects

Canada's first soil conservation and farm improvement day will find the soils, agricultural engineering and horticultural departments of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, co-operating in carrying out a complete "face-lifting" job on the Heber Down farm. Plans have already been made for a wide range of projects to change completely the method of operating the farm. Among the most formidable projects are the entire elimination of a thickly-grown fence row, the construction of a water diversion terrace, the institution of a contour cultivation and strip cropping procedure, ditching and laying of tile drains, a pasture improvement project, and a buckthorn eradication demonstration. The Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture will carry out the last named two projects, while the Department of Lands and Forests will conduct a reforestation project and woodlot improvement demonstration project on part of the farm. As fast as the contour strips are plowed, seeding of fall wheat will be done.

The outstanding feature of the day is that the work which will be undertaken and carried through to completion will constitute what would normally be a five-year program of soil conservation and farm improvement.

To Modernize Farmhouse

In addition to the work in the fields on the Down farm, the barn will be renovated and painted, part of the farmhouse will be completely remodelled and modernized, and the surrounding of the farm and farm-house landscaped by outstanding horticulturists from the O.A.C. at Guelph.

At last week's meeting, Miss Kathleen Taggart of the Women's Institute Branch of the Department of Agriculture, submitted plans for remodeling and modernizing of the farm home. These plans having been prepared by the Central Housing and Mortgage Corporation, which is co-operating in the project. One of the plans submitted was accepted by the committee, and this work will be done prior to and on the day of the demonstration, so that the visitors can visualize what can be done in modernizing a typical farm home.

Speaking Program

Plans were made for the program of speaking which will be held between 12:30 and 2 p.m. at the headquarters on the farm. The regular CBC farm broadcast by Jack McPherson will be given direct from the farm. This will be followed by the formal opening ceremonies and speeches, with Howard Harper, of Goodwood, chairman of the general committee, as master of ceremonies. The speakers will include W. P. Westney, Pickering, Warden of Ontario County; Heber Down, owner of the farm; Premier Leslie M. Frost; H. Lynn Fair, agricultural representative; A. H. Martin, director of the Crops Branch, Toronto;

F. S. Fletcher, chairman of the select legislature committee on soil conservation, and Prof. G. N. Ruhake, director of agricultural research for Ontario.

Invitation to Women's Groups

Provision has been made for the establishment of eating tents and other conveniences on the grounds, and an invitation was extended to Women's Institutes and women's church groups to make application for the concessions for lunch tents. No charge will be made for space for eating tents or booths, and women's groups interested in providing such facilities for the huge crowd are asked to communicate with the secretary for the day, H. Lynn Fair, Ontario Department of Agriculture, Uxbridge, Ont. A rest tent, with motion pictures to entertain the crowd, and other headquarters facilities will be made available at strategic locations on the farm. A time schedule is being drawn up for demonstrations and talks on the various projects, so that the thousands of visitors can have a clear picture of what is being done and why it is being done.

Parking space will be made available for 2,000 automobiles, as the event is arousing such province-wide interest that parties are expected from every county in old Ontario.

News From Keswick

Mr. and Mrs. Kirkland and two sons of Weston spent the weekend and Civic Holiday as guests of Rev. and Mrs. R. J. Serick.

Mr. D. Redditt, Bank of Commerce manager, is having his holidays and with Mrs. Redditt left this week to spend a part of them in Haliburton.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron King and son, here for the holiday weekend, and Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Wright visited friends at Balsam Lake on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Rye and family are at their Keswick Beach cottage for a week's holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferg Taylor, Elaine and Myron, Newmarket, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Pollock.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hanna visited friends in Toronto on Civic holiday.

Mr. Reg Jefferys, Toronto, is spending a couple of weeks at Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Henry's.

Mr. Snyder occupied the Christian church pulpit on Sunday morning and gave an inspiring sermon.

Rev. Peter Varonoff, Russian lecturer and missionary, gave an earnest lecture with pictures in the Christian church on Friday evening. It was educational and revealing as to the inroad and work of communism in Russia and the crying need of Christianity which alone can combat the deadly work of the communist party. We regret so few heard this lecture. Mr. Varonoff's parents are Christian missionaries held in a Siberian concentration camp.

Another lovely service was held last Sunday morning when a large congregation gathered in the United church to hear Rev. M. R. Brown preach on I Cor. 13—"Without Christian Love we are Nothing". The large choir contributed fine music and Mr. Murray Huntley from Queensville sang two fine solos, one being "Man Took a Beautiful Tree and Made a Cross for Man."

Sunday-school at 10 a.m. in the United church. Visitors are always welcome.

Please note extra services will be held on the following dates at 9:45 a.m., Elmhurst Beach Aug. 7; Indianola Beach Aug. 14, and Elmhurst Beach Aug. 21. Rev. M. R. Brown will have charge of these services to which the public is cordially invited.

SHARON

The ladies of Sharon United church are having a sale of home baking, aprons, etc., on the church lawn on Saturday, August 13. Sale commences at 2 p.m.

Mr. Lowell Pegg, Weston, spent the weekend and holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everton Pegg.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Mount Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Drake, Leaside, spent the long weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Long.

Mrs. Wreggit and Mrs. Harry Moss spent a few days in Toronto this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Ramsay, Streetsville, visited Mrs. Levi Weddel and family on Sunday.

Mr. M. E. Kiteley, Owen Sound, spent last week with Mrs. Kiteley.

Miss Doris Mackie, Toronto, spent the holiday weekend with her grandfather, Mr. W. Fountain.

Miss Irene Blunt, Toronto, spent the long weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Blunt.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dixon, Joan and Barbara, Hamilton, spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fife.

Mr. Ted Fife spent the weekend at home.

Miss Jean Nicklin, Toronto, spent the long weekend at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Farr, Mr. and Mrs. Elmerby Farr motored to Port Stanley on Sunday and spent the day.

The Sharon Junior Farmers are going to Midland next Sunday by chartered bus. Picnic lunch. See Elda Hall, Clare Eves, or Arnold Johnson for tickets.

ZEPHYR

Miss Jean Clark and friend, Miss Helen Smith, spent a few holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Chess Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Galbraith and family, Malton, visited at the home of Mr. Galbraith's brother, John, and Mrs. Galbraith, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bennett, Oshawa, are spending this week with Mr. and Mrs. C. Robertson.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Arnold, Toronto, spent their holidays with Mrs. Arnold's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chess Clark, and at a cottage at the lake.

Mr. Ewins of Toronto will occupy the pulpit next Sunday, August 7, and Mr. Douglas Hutchings, Newmarket, on Aug. 14.

Miss Olive Meyers spent the weekend at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. James Galbraith spent the weekend at Port Bolster.

Mrs. R. Shier is spending this week in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Myers and Harold, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. L. Pilkey, of Ottawa where they spent the weekend.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Alexander Crawford

One of the older residents of Georgina township, Mrs. Alexander Crawford passed away at her home, lot 3, concession 2, on Tuesday, July 12.

The late Mary Galbraith, a daughter of Mary Baird and Charles Galbraith, was born in Brock township near Victoria Corners in 1873.

As a child she lived near Sunderland and at Oro before the family moved to the Sutton district. She attended school at Sutton and the Base Line. As a young woman she moved to the Egypt district.

1907 she married Alexander Crawford who predeceased her in 1929. She lived on the same farm throughout her married life.

Her main interest was in her home and flowers and in the former Egypt Presbyterian church of which she was a member.

Surviving are two daughters, Janet and Catherine, and four sons, Alistair and Robert at home, Charles of Aurora and Wilmer of Toronto.

Also surviving are two sisters, Miss Elinor Galbraith and Dr. Jane Galbraith, Orillia, and one brother, James Galbraith of Zephyr.

Rev. Dr. Berry of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Sutton, conducted the funeral service from her residence on July 15. Interment was in Briar Hill cemetery, Sutton.

KESWICK

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gilroy and son, Douglas, were weekend guests of Mrs. A. Gilroy and Eva. Traffic for the holiday was heavy but no accidents reported. The weather was fine. The 90 degree temperatures of last week have lowered to 60 and 70 degrees, a welcome relief.

Frankie and Edna Hale, Malton (children of the former Marion Draper, Keswick), are visiting at Mr. Gordon Harper's.

Mr. Luther Draper, Conniston, is here visiting friends.

BLAIR-HAINES

At Sutton on Saturday, July 30, 1949, Dr. James Berry officiated at the marriage of Ruby Elsie Haines, daughter of Mrs. William Wheeler and the late William Wheeler of Toronto and Donald Herbert Blair, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Blair of Newmarket.

DEATHS

With a few recent rains the folk of Brown Hill are feeling more encouraged with their gardens. Mr. John Crouth has been gathering the cucumbers in large quantity and has a nice garden.

Mrs. Emily Sedore is doing nicely now but still has her leg in a cast. How Mrs. Sedore keeps smiling with all this has us who are well and able wondering if we aren't a bit grumpy.

Mrs. Amos York has guests from Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crouch and Arthur visited Mr. and Mrs. Amos York last Friday and enjoyed a real treat of raspberries and cream. Mr. and Mrs. York now have hydro as have the Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Meenamara have been spending a few holidays here at their summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Miller were up for the holidays.

Mrs. Sarah Miller has been away for a few days visiting her brother, Will Snodden, at Sunderland.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith moved to Baldwin last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mitchell visited in Detroit over the long weekend.

There will be no Sunday-school next Sunday at the little Free Methodist church. Rev. and Mrs. Bosko will be attending conference.

A few of the folk of Brown Hill attended the Sunday-school picnic which this year was a combined picnic with Holt, last Saturday.

FRANCES LUESBY

Orchid and white gladioli decorated Trinity United church, Newmarket, on Saturday, July 30, for the marriage of Frances Isobel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Luesby of Newmarket, to Charles George MacLeod, son of Mrs. MacLeod and the late George MacLeod of Toronto. Rev. Henry Cotton officiated. Mr. H. Fowler was organist and during the signing of the register Mrs. Lawrence Patterson sang.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a Victorian gown of iridescent satin with yoke of illusion and chantilly lace. Her veil of matching illusion fell from a coronet of chantilly lace. She carried a crescent of hybrid lilies, roses and swansonia, tinted in matching tones.

Matron of honor, Mrs. George Luesby, Jr., and bridesmaid, Mrs. John Luesby, wore gowns of orchid faille taffeta on Victorian lines with off-the-shoulder necklines. They wore matching mittens and poke bonnets with streamers of American beauty velvet extending to the floor. They carried American beauty roses and gladioli.

Mr. John Catts was best man and the ushers were Mr. John Luesby and Mr. Lawrence Patterson.

The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Luesby, Jr.

The bride's mother received in a gown of pink crepe and lace. She wore a shaded flower hat and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. MacLeod received in a navy crepe gown, navy hat and wore a corsage of red roses.

The bride travelled in a natural linen suit, green hat and accessories. She wore a miniature nosegay of yellow roses. Following a motor trip to Ottawa and points east the couple will reside in Newmarket.

GIRLS' CAMP AUG. 20-30

Newmarket—The senior camp for girls, age 13, 16 and 17 years, will be held at Camp Ashmun-yong August 20 to 30 under the auspices of the North York County Girls' committee, with registrar Miss Dorothy Moore, 76 Wheeler Ave., Toronto. The first 75 registrants will be accepted. Funds are available to send girls to this camp and 50 percent of the cost is paid for each and all of the cost is paid in needy cases for Newmarket girls.

W.A. PLANS MEETING

The Women's Auxiliary of St. Paul's church, afternoon branch, will hold its monthly devotional and business meeting next Thursday afternoon, Aug. 11, at 3 p.m. in the parish hall. The guest speaker will be Mrs. Olive Watson, London, England. They plan to hold a picnic tea after the meeting.

Try Era and Express classifieds.

SNOWBALL

The induction of the new minister, Rev. D. G. Gray, of Snowball United church will take place on Friday, August 5, at Kettleby. All are welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Teasdale and small daughter, Jane, Welland, have been holidaying with Mr. Teasdale's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Teasdale.

Lois Blum celebrated her 11th birthday, Friday, July 29, at Centre Island with a number of friends and her sisters, Susan and Barbara.

A number of ladies from Snowball attended a lawn tea at the home of Mrs. Austin Oliver (Mary Miles).

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kirtan and Mary. Mrs. Kirtan left for Port Francis to be with her father but he had already passed away on her arrival. Also to the family of Mrs. Rose Ferguson, who passed away. Mrs. Ferguson spent most of her life at Snowball and will be sadly missed by all her old neighbors.

Mrs. Wm. Gould spent a few days visiting her sister, Mrs. C. McLaughlin, of Lloydstown.

Mrs. Alan Speedy and sons of Detroit have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. Appleton.

The W.I. will meet at the home of Miss Hazel Webb on Wednesday, August 17. Note change of date.

YOUNG HOPEFULS BY DOROTHY MOIR BOWMAN

Unhealthy Attitude Detriment To Appetite

Roger, nine years old, was a feeding problem child until he was free to eat according to the dictates of a normal appetite.
Roger was proving such a problem child at home that his parents welcomed the opportunity to send him to a summer camp. They hoped the camp would teach him a thing or two, they were relieved to shift the responsibility for their problem child, and especially, they looked forward to a little peace at meal time.

Actually, one of the most irritating problems at home was Roger's obstinacy at meal time.
His parents used to be able to force him to eat, but now he turns sullen and refuses to obey them—rather than eat what he doesn't want at the table he raids the ice box like a sneaking little thief or goes begging at the neighbors. Lately, he has been helping himself to apples at the fruit market.

When Roger's parents introduced him to the summer camp staff, they simply spoke of his finicky appetite as his worst offense. Mother was accustomed to practically starving in the kitchen—preparing balanced menus and serving attractive meals—but it was always a fight to get Roger to eat.

At camp, plain food was served and everyone was so busy feeding themselves that no one paid any attention to what anyone else was eating—or even if they were eating for that matter. Roger began to eat gingerly at first;
but, on the third day, his appetite was well whetted and his consumption of food almost equalled that of the camp's biggest eater.

When food is forced on a child,
he frequently becomes negativistic concerning it. What difference does it make to a child how long mother slaves in the kitchen, preparing well-balanced and attractive meals? If that slaving makes her irritable and she acts like a martyr at meal times, she is definitely not an incentive to a wholesome appetite.

Father may automatically eat strange concoctions to appease mother—even though he doesn't exactly relish them as much as recognizable meat and potatoes.
Children are more honest and responsive to their natural appetites. A pleasant atmosphere is conducive to hearty appetites.

I simply can't get over the fact that the church once at Mc-Millan's Corners, then at Boyer's Crossing, and now at the new site given by Mrs. La Rue, could be moved like that and placed on its foundation and not even a window broken, as far as I could see. Yes, folks, it was my privilege to be there for the opening service last Sunday evening—and it was a wonderful occasion. I felt as if we were making history. And indeed we were doing just that—making history, for most certainly it will be recorded in the annals of the Synod of the Church of England in Canada that a new parish, Jersey, and a new church in that new parish of Jersey, called St. Paul's, was opened for service for the first time on Sunday evening, July 31, 1919.

The service was set for eight o'clock and the sun was shining beautifully, lighting up the interior which had been cleaned and polished and made ready for the opening service. True the opening in the roof was still awaiting the carpenter's attention, but it only went to emphasize the fact that it had been cut completely into three sections to be moved. Rev. H. L.
Puxley, M.A., already Rector of Roche's Point, Sharon and Holland Landing, has added St.
Paul's, Jersey, to his list of Sunday services—and he gave a very stirring address based on Psalm 48: "O how amiable are thy dwellings, Thou Lord of Hosts." The two lessons and the hymns were all chosen especially
—O God, Our Help in Ages Past,
We love the place, O God, wherein Thy honor dwells, and
The Church's One Foundation.
The two new church wardens read the lessons and three members of the building fund took up the collection and Miss Reid, soloist at Davenport United church, Toronto, sang beautifully "Bless this House."

At the end of the address, the sun had gone down and the lights were turned on—yes indeed, even electric lighting was available. It all meant a great deal of steady, hard work for those in charge, but they had indeed accomplished their object and the church was opened for service while the summer residents are still there to appreciate it. Indeed, Mr. Puxley plans to hold service there all the year round, and the basement beneath is to be used as a community centre, as well as for the different organizations of the church.

The building is set quite high on its foundation so that one is not aware of the constant passing of motor cars; and the view from each splendid large window is of beautiful tall green trees. As the sun sank lower, the sunlight became tinged with carmine and gave a rosy glow to everything it touched. It lingered longest on the two lovely vases of flowers and on the pianist seated at the piano, and on the robes of the clergy.
It was a pleasure to join with the congregation at the close of the service, in greeting the Rector and hearing such wonderful words of appreciation on all sides from those whose church it will now be, Sunday after Sunday. There is still much to be done, of course, but I venture to say it will be a labor of love, and the result will be so worthwhile.

turned their sunburned faces to

Throughout the afternoon and up to 6 o'clock, rubber tired hay wagons drawn by various makes of light tractors transported the visitors on a sight seeing tour of Leitchcroft to see their Ayrturkey and poultry. Everyone commented on the excellent ar-

W. M. Cockburn, secretary,

News of the W.I. In North York

News for this column must be in the office Monday night. Copy must be written as briefly as possible and confined to news and reports. Other than routine reports and announcements will be printed separately.

Vandorf branch held its picnic at VanNostrand's lake with about 45 women and children present. Everyone reports a good time, especially enjoying the swimming and motor boat riding. Mrs. S. Eade was the winner in the buttonhole contest.

The Kettleby branch met at the home of Mrs. Carrington Wilson on Wednesday, July 27. Pres. Mrs. Ernest Blatchford was in the chair. A letter of thanks was read by her secretary, Mrs. Harry Burns, from the Kettleby Community club thanking the Institute for their donation of $75. Miss Ruby Wilson read the flower report and the cards of thanks from those who had received cards and flowers. A travel talk was given by Mrs. Douglas Conover who has just returned from a trip to the coast. This talk proved interesting and educational. Two delightful solos were rendered by Miss Ruby Wilson and Mrs. Bethel Marchant. As this was our picnic day each child under ten years of age received a gift. There were 31 who received gifts. War memorial report was given by Mrs. E. B. West. Flowers were planted and cut flowers placed around the cenotaph on decoration day and flags were placed on all soldiers' graves.

At this time in our meeting Miss Ada Ineson was asked to stand and Mrs. Norman Green-sides gave a short address and said how sorry we were to lose Ada from our community and on behalf of the Institute presented Ada with a china cup and saucer. Mrs. Harry Burns, our secretary, was then asked to stand and Mrs. A. G. Farren read an address of thanks to her and Mrs. Frank Heatty presented Mrs. Burns with a china cup and saucer and plate in petit point design.

The Gormley branch held its regular July meeting in the form of a picnic at the home of Mrs. Roy Smith. Because of the heat, our numbers were small for a picnic, about 40 being present. We were pleased to have as our guests, the second vice president and secretary of Centre York, Mrs. E. Reddick, Snowball, and Mrs. F. Hare, Temperanceville; and the president and secretary of North York, Mrs. E. Armstrong, Newmarket, and Mrs. B. Sinclair, Mount Albert. They were all in turn called on by our president for a few words and we were sure their greetings and words of encouragement were an inspiration to all present. We also had as our guests eight grandmothers, two of them great grandmothers, and a number of children. All enjoyed the program of sports which followed the meeting. A bountiful supper was served on the lawn.

The Pefferlaw branch will be guests of Mount Albert ladies at the United church on Thursday, Aug. 11, at 2:30 when the visitors will provide the program. Roll call "Your favorite excuse." Please pay your Blue Cross fees to Mrs. Geo. Walsh before August 15.

The Pine Orchard branch of the Women's Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. A. Baxter on Wednesday, Aug. 10, at 2:30 p.m. This is the annual grandmothers' meeting. All members are reminded that the Blue Cross fees are to be paid at or before this meeting.

On Wednesday, July 28, the Aurora branch held its annual picnic at the home of Mrs. J. Ough, Lake Simcoe. A large number attended and all reported having a good time.

W. R. TO TORONTO GIRL

A pretty summer evening wedding was solemnized recently in St. John's Norway church, Toronto, when Eleanor May, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Simpson, Coxwell Ave., became the bride of Walter Ronald Draper, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Draper, Mount Albert. Mrs. Marshall Lyons of Scarborough Bluffs, sister of the groom, was soloist, and the Rev. Nicholson was officiating minister.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a beautiful gown of white slipper satin with inset bodice of chantilly lace. The long sleeves pointed over the wrist and the skirt flared at the hips ending in a long train. Her halo headress was white satin and net, trimmed with seed pearls and her full-length veil was Victorian lace. She carried a cascade of red roses, bouvardia and sweetpeas.

Matron of honor, Mrs. David McCowan, in mauve taffeta and net, and Mrs. Murray Thompson and Miss Edith Blaney, in turquoise taffeta and net, were the bridesmaids. Their halo hats matched the gowns and they carried yellow roses, sweetpeas and baby's breath. Miss Marsha Ann Lyons, niece of the groom, was flower girl and wore floor-length canary yellow taffeta and net, with coronet of yellow rose buds and blue corn flowers with matching bouquet.

Mr. Leslie Barnes was best man and ushers were Mr. Ross Draper of Mount Albert and Mr. Duncan Simpson, Jr., of Toronto.

Reception was held at Maloney Art Galleries where a full-course dinner was served to 100 guests. An orchestra provided delightful music during the dinner and for a short period of dancing which followed the toasts.

The groom's mother wore a dove grey dress with yoke insets of blue lace and navy accessories. Mrs. Simpson, mother of the bride, received in a long

Federation Books Tour For Donna Grescoe

Newmarket — The Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs has booked Donna Grescoe on a coast to coast tour, October and November, 1919. Her appearance in Toronto is scheduled for October 12, and the Newmarket club has joined the Toronto club in promoting the concert. It is a principle of the club to assist and encourage Canadian talent and this year tangible efforts are being made to assist this 22-year-old violinist who was born in Winnipeg.

On February 3, 1917, Donna made her New York debut at Town Hall. She was applauded long and heartily by music-lovers, some of whom had travelled thousands of miles to be present at her debut in the musical centre of the world. The press was unstinting in her praise. Donna Grescoe is of Ukrainian descent.

Groceries, Lunch Room, Open Saturday

Newmarket — Mrs. Arlie Wright has resigned her position with Robert Simpson Co. Ltd., Toronto, and is going to assist her sister, Mrs. Donald Wright, in the latter's new business on Eagle St. The parting gift to Mrs. Arlie Wright was an Elizabeth Arden travelling case. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wright plan to open a lunch room and grocery store on Eagle St. on Saturday.

hostess gown of heavenly blue with lamé trimming and darker blue accessories. For travelling the bride chose a dusky yellow gabardine suit and natural straw bonnet and purse.

After a wedding trip through Algonquin Park and Northern Ontario, the happy couple took up residence at 32 Heale St., Scarborough Bluffs.

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

BIRDS AND BEASTS AND FLOWERS

Some people never expect anything so that they may not be disappointed; some expect so much that they're always disappointed, and some just expect.

I think most of the 30 women who boarded a Grey Coach bus last Thursday morning bound for the park near Midhurst were in the last category. As for the numerous children—well, they always expect great things, and for their happiness, fulfillment nearly always meets expectation.

Always with me, a day like this begins the night before, when the alarm clock and I have a heart to heart session—or maybe I should call it a drawn battle for no one ever wins. I go to bed perfectly sure the alarm will not go off, but as it invariably does and I fly out of bed with such force that I almost knock myself out, maybe the clock is one up.

By the time I had made two lunches, for the other half of the family was going off too, and had consoled Beauty and Stripes with large quantities of food and much advice as to the care of Daffodil, had looked and re-looked doors and put down windows when it looked like rain and put them up when it didn't, had run back three times to look at the stove and see if the gadgets were all turned right, I was scarlet with heat and excitement and started the day with a brain reduced to a jelly.

However, when I climbed into the bus and sat down beside Mrs. Williams and realized that Ken—surname unknown—was a careful and courteous driver, I became a sane member of Bogartown W.I. and could look at houses I'd like to live in and houses that gave me creeps and could talk with some degree of sanity with my neighbor.

Arriving at the park, I liked to watch our bus like a big grey dragon, glide round curves and between trees till we reached the big pavilion.

As it was noon, we felt that lunch should come first, so, while some with a facility that I admired but could not emulate got a fire going in record time, the rest of us set tables and unpacked the baskets.

Soon the table was adorned with succulent salads, tasty sandwiches, pies, tarts and cakes.

Hot tea for those who craved it—cold drinks for the non-tea-drinkers and then we were ready to explore.

When I was a child I delighted in Robinson Crusoe and Swiss Family Robinson for it seemed to me it would be marvellous to wander through a new land finding surprises at every turn.

Well, we were all Crusoes that day, for wandering through that beautiful wooded place, beside little stony-bedded streams, we came upon delightful surprise after surprise.

Here was a placid pool with stately swans floating effortlessly on its gleaming surface. But in spite of their statelyness these swans had an eye out for the main chance and did not disdain cake or bread or popcorn and accepted such offerings with an air of condescension beautiful to behold.

In the background lurked some little ducks swimming in formation, but they rather avoided their formidable neighbors who floated about with a black webbed foot stuck out at the side like a rudder.

Wandering on we saw pheasants and peacocks that rivalled Solomon in all his glory. I never before noticed closely the diadem on the peacock's head—every filament crested with a tiny tuft of iridescent color while the pheasants looked like some gorgeous oriental tapestry.

We saw our wonderful Canada geese and various kinds of ducks and then we wandered into deeper bush and here were deer, and there a fox and yonder a wolf.

The beaver would not show themselves although we saw the fruits of their industry.

Colorful flowers bloomed everywhere from the crazy water lily to the flaming tiger lily.

Beauty was everywhere and when we gathered up baskets and children who had been happy on swings and slides and climbed wearily into the bus, we felt the day had added beauty and knowledge to our lives.

And on the way home Mrs. Harper even pointed out a haunted house. Mrs. Harper said she'd like to have the chance to live in it and prove that imagination had given it its name.

I might like it in the daytime, but having an imagination that works overtime, I'd make an exit 'ere night caught me there.

And so, it was over—our day in the open—and only a delightful memory remains.

Women's Fashions Feature Many Firsts At C.N.E.

Certain to be most discussed at the C.N.E. fashion showings this year is the $10,000, two-piece suit, first of its kind to be created in this country. Details of this expensive luxury model are to be announced at a later date.

New in the fashion field at the exhibition this year will be the collection of children's clothes modeled by Toronto youngsters, first shows using children the Ex. has sponsored. The children's fashions will be part of the hourly showings of furs, evening wear, business clothes and young matrons' wear in the long gallery of the Women's Building.

An important improvement this year, it is believed, will be leaflets for each visitor, describing the clothes and giving instructions as to where they may be obtained. Fashion consultants will be there to answer questions.

The shows for girl teen-agers will be repeated twice each day in Teen Town theatre with Barbara Oliver as commentator. Smart home-sewn styles for children will be presented in the new theatre in Woman's World.

The high style collection is again to be seen by patrons of the Balcany Restaurant. The same show is scheduled to invade the C.N.E.'s private women's luncheons. The thousands of Canadian women honored at these luncheons may hear fewer speakers this year but have the unexpected pleasure of seeing the first local forecast of fashions for fall.

But the highlight perhaps of all the fair's fashion shows will be "Lovely Woman," two-hour long daily presentation in Woman's World. All that goes into the making of a lovely woman will be included—right choice of clothes for every occasion, classes in posture, in grooming, in make-up and in reducing. Following each "Lovely Woman" presentation, a line-up of professional consultants will go to work to give each woman personal counsel on the adapting of this knowledge of her own particular needs.

Former Newmarket Woman Helps Launch Encyclopedia

Mrs. C. C. Harding, a native of Newmarket, who is wife and business associate of the vice-president of the Americana Corporation for the west coast, was honored last Thursday in Toronto where the editors and publishers of the Encyclopedia Americana held a reception in honor of the 40 Canadian writers who have written special articles for the new Canadian edition of the Encyclopedia Americana.

Mrs. Harding was honored by being chosen to present a recently discovered painting of the Marquis Mennerville, second to the last governor of French Canada, to the National Archives. Dr. W. Kay Lamb, the National Archivist, received the painting for the Canadian government.

The painting was found in a second-hand shop on Second Ave., New York, by an editor of the Encyclopedia Americana and presented to Canada as a goodwill gesture by the company which this week opened a Canadian corporation to distribute the new Canadian edition of the Encyclopedia Americana. The 30-volume set contains as much information about Canada as it does about the United States.

In a gracious speech, Mrs. Harding said that the gift would help cement good relationship between the two countries, Canada and United States. Mrs. Harding was completely surprised when F. P. Murphy, chairman of the Board of the Americana Corporation, presented her with a plaque to commemorate the occasion and to pay tribute to Mrs. Harding's "noble character and gracious personality." Although Mrs. Harding has lived on the west coast of United States for many years she has always retained her Canadian citizenship.

Dr. B. K. Sandwell, editor of "Saturday Night," officiated at the brief ceremonies which marked the opening of the Canadian concern and the launching of the new Canadian edition.

Gift sets of the Encyclopedia were presented to Canada's prime minister, Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, the Toronto Men's Press Club, the Toronto Women's Press Club, Dr. W. Kay Lamb, Canada's Archivist, and John Fisher, C.B.C. radio commentator, who was named as the Canadian who has done most to make his fellow countrymen aware of the opportunities and potentialities of Canada.

Cool Desserts For Hot Days

Frozen desserts are popular with every member of the family and are especially attractive when you entertain. They may be prepared early in the day when it is cool and be ready, waiting in the refrigerator, when needed.

Since whipped cream is usually a main ingredient in rich desserts, it is important that certain points be observed when whipping cream. First there must be at least 30 percent butter fat content in the cream, otherwise it won't whip. The cream should be at least 24 hours old and the bowl and beater as well as the cream should be chilled prior to whipping. It should be whipped just until stiff and dry. Overbeating frequently results in the cream turning to butter or curdling. When sugar, coloring or flavoring is added to the whipped cream it should be added, a little at a time, after the cream is quite stiff.

BLUEBERRY WHIP

3 Cups blueberries
1 Cup water
1/2 Cup sugar
Dash of salt
2 Tsp. vinegar
1 Tbsp. gelatine
1/2 Cup water
1 Cup whipping cream

Cook blueberries and water for three minutes. Crush berries and force through a sieve. Add sugar, salt and vinegar, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Soak gelatine in the 1/2 cup water for five minutes, then dissolve in hot blueberry mixture. Chill and when the mixture begins to thicken, fold in the whipped cream. Chill until firm. Serve, topped with additional cream and chopped nuts. Yield: six servings.

RASPBERRY SPONGE

1 Tbsp. gelatine
1/2 Cup cold water
2 Cups raspberries
1/2 Cup water
1/2 Cup sugar
Dash of salt
2 Tbsp. lemon juice
2 Egg whites
3 Tbsp. sugar

Soak gelatine in the 1/2 cup cold water for five minutes then dissolve over hot water. Crush raspberries, add water, sugar, salt and lemon juice, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Add dissolved gelatine, blending thoroughly. Chill and when mixture begins to thicken, fold in stiffly beaten egg whites to which 3 tsp. sugar have been added. Pour into one large or six individual moulds that have been rinsed in cold water. Chill until firm. Serve with a custard sauce made with two egg yolks. Yield: six servings.

BLUEBERRY MALLOW

2 Cups blueberries
1/2 Cup water
Dash of salt
1 Tsp. vinegar or lemon juice
20 Marshmallows
1 Cup whipping cream

Crush blueberries, add water and salt and cook, covered, until tender, about six to eight minutes. Remove from heat, add vinegar or lemon juice and marshmallows, cut in quarters. Stir and blend until marshmallows are melted. Cool and let stand until partially set then fold in whipped cream. Pour into one large or six individual moulds that have been rinsed in cold water and chill until firm. If desired, 1/2 cup chopped toasted almonds may be added to the mixture. Yield: six servings.

Ladies Meet Midland In Semi Opener At S.S. Tonight

The advice that Skipper Frank Courtney and the ladies' softball squad have been waiting for arrived Tuesday morning. Midland and Valley's ended up the season in a deadlock. The teams met Monday evening to settle first place and Midland grabbed the decision 9-6 and with it first place. Newmarket finished third and meets Midland here tonight in the first game of the best two of three in a semi-final series. The other bracket sends the two Barrie teams, Allandale and Valley's, into a best two of three series. Winners in both series will tangle in a best three in five series for the group championship. So a trip to the Stuart Scott diamond tonight (Thursday) should be number one on your list. Our ladies' squad will need every ounce of get-up and go if they are to stop the Midlanders.

Keswick Holds Lead In Simcoe League

Keswick continues to set the pace in the Simcoe League. League standing stayed put over the week. That chant you hear coming out of the north of "Watch the Blues" is growing louder. Zephyr Blues put across a pair of wins, hoisting them into a tie with Willow Beach in the race. It was a 5-1 win for Zephyr at Vancor. It was a whale of a ball game for five innings at one all. Zephyr let go and collared the necessary runs to register the win.

Ron Kester pitched steady ball as his mates gave him A1 support. Harold Botham and "Cal" Preston split the mound work for the Dorfers. Jim Preston counted the lone run in the loser's cause. Zephyr next gave the home fans a chance to rave, up-setting the Hope win streak 5-2. Ron Kester went the route, whiffing seven and allowing four hits. Lon Ganton, Ken Harman, Bruce Townsley and Floyd Breen nipped Kester for these. Don Glover and Lon Ganton split the Hope chores. Zephyr up with a big second for four runs. Clark Arnold, Ches Lunney and Bill Hewlett provided the big hits in the Blues' win.

It wasn't all bad news for the Hope fans. They got in a dig against their old rivals, Mount Albert, to slip over a 2-1 win right in the Mount. A pitcher's duel between Lon Ganton and "Lefty" Glover on one side and "Red" Mitchell on the other was a highlight. Homers by Doug Ross and Cliff Dard deadlocked it, up to the sixth. Ken Harman pushed across the decider with his timely smash in the seventh. A fast double play engineered by Don Glover to Lon Ganton to Bruce Townsley silenced a threatening last inning rally by the Mounties.

Keswick's high powered hitting applied a neat coat of whitewash to Ivan Eves and his Sharon hopefuls for 14-0. Sixteen hits made off Les Blunt and Ivan Eves. Hal Smith didn't have much trouble subduing Sharon on six bingles. Claude Pollock, Royden Connell, Al Hodgins and Bob Pollock took special pains in their knocking with well nigh perfect marks.

Vandorf sent Brown Hill's hopes of overtaking them in the league race into the discard, taking down a 17-9 verdict. Jim Preston's homer with the sacks populated enabled Harold Botham to take life easy. Vandorf Cuffed Duff Sedore's offerings solidly.

Queensville had a rocky time of it at Willow Beach. The Beachers ran roughshod over the cellar dwellers 22-0. Cecil McNeill wasn't in serious difficulty of losing his shut-out at any stage. Dot Menar's hired hands made the scorer the busiest man in the park with 12 runs in the second. Loose fielding by Queensville made life miserable for Geo. Evans. Don Cameron's homer was the long knock of the evening.

Last but not least by any means was Pine Orchard up with 17-10 win over Brown Hill. Ted Tidman besting a parade of three Hill pitchers, Max Chapman, Bob Allan and Duff Sedore. The Orchard sailed in front with seven in the second and four in the third. Brown Hill following had a chance to roar when their boys produced seven in the third, but couldn't do much from there on.

President Ross Chapman indicates the league executive will meet Thursday at Sharon to iron out some important business. Action ahead is: Aug. 4, Willow Beach at Mount Albert; Aug. 4, Pine Orchard at Sharon; Aug. 5, Zephyr at Keswick; Aug. 5, Sharon at Willow Beach; Aug. 8, Hope at Pine Orchard; Aug. 9, Zephyr at Queensville; Aug. 9, Willow Beach at Brown Hill; Aug. 10, Zephyr at Hope; Aug. 10, Pine Orchard at Vandorf.

Chiefly responsible for the big Newmarket production were Mac Clement, Orrie Thoms and Geo. Haskett with our four for four. Stunden helped his own cause with three hits in four appearances. Every Newmarket batter boasted at least one hit over the night.

Ladies, Vets Go Down In Holiday Defeats

Newmarket ladies' softball team and our Vets both had holiday engagements in the softball round-ups. The ladies journeyed to Cobourg for a joust with their old rivals of P.W.S.U. competition. Cobourg Pavilions, and came away on the short end of an 8-4 decision. Our gals didn't go down without a fight, stepping into the lead on two occasions, but it slipped away in the final frames.

Newmarket Vets reached the finals in the Mount Albert Legion field day, gaining the berth by a 9-2 margin over the host club, Mount Albert, in the first round. In the finals they looked in a battle with Thornhill for the major portion of the spoils but were turned back 6-3.

Quite a number of the Vets' fan following was disappointed when Lansing or North York Lions to give them their right title failed to put in a scheduled appearance at the park Tuesday. The visitors phoned earlier in the evening to enquire as to playing conditions and were advised to come along but must have missed the boat for they didn't show. This makes a total of eight games for the Vets to pick up before the schedule ends.

les swept all before them to win the C.L.A. senior crown. The same year Beaverbrook Checkers, featuring the famous McMillan brothers, were intermediate champs. Bradford hit the national game's headlines next, winning junior honors in 1902, and intermediate honors in both 1908 and 1909.

Newmarket Talagoes won the juvenile championship in 1909, the first year the series was active. Those are the only I.L.A. wins or O.L.A. wins recorded until last year when Maple won the intermediate B honors.

Aurora, while never winning a championship except two Tri-County junior titles and a North York junior crown, was up in the contention on more than one occasion. Richmond Hill, it will be recalled, took the Tri-County intermediate crown once and also won the Tri-County senior championship with an entry good enough to rate Ontario honors. More than just playing the game, the district sent leaders into the direction and control of the game.

Six past presidents of the O.L.A. are listed as follows: the late Col. T. Herbert Lannox, Aurora; Peter McMillan, Beaverbrook; W. J. Stark, Stouffville; John F. Lennox, Stouffville; H. S. Cameron, Beaverbrook, and Thomas Doyle, Newmarket. Mr. Doyle is a regular spectator at the Newmarket home games. Life memberships are something the O.L.A. hands out sparingly and of some 20 so honored the late Ernie "Turk" Doyle heads the list. There were many more who sat on the executive over the years.

Share Tennis Points With Mount Albert

It was an even split of the points when Newmarket Tennis club journeyed to Mount Albert last Wednesday for a scheduled tournament in the North York Tennis League. Newmarket picked up four wins and the host club did likewise. The men's doubles were split, Newmarket took both ladies' doubles, while Mount Albert drew up even with three wins in four games in the mixed doubles competition. Results with Newmarket players named first were as follows:

Ladies' doubles: Joyce Bothwell and Joan Peppiatt scored a 6-0, 6-1 win over Marian Pearson and Kay Case; Lynn Hunter and Helen Coveney gained a 6-2, 6-4 win over Barbara Roberts and Gerlie Harrison.

Men's doubles: Jack Peppiatt and Jerry Hugo earned a 6-5, 6-4 triumph over Dr. Geo. Macpherson and Doug Ross; Morley Hunter and Al Armstrong were defeated by Bruce Gould and Frank Dampf, 6-6, 4-8.

Mixed doubles: Joan Peppiatt and Jack Peppiatt gave Newmarket their lone win in mixed doubles competition with a 6-2 win over Kay Case and Dr. Geo. Macpherson; Joyce Bothwell and Jerry Hugo were defeated by Barbara Roberts and Doug Ross, 6-4; Lynn Hunter and Morley Hunter were defeated by Gerlie Harrison and Bruce Gould, 6-5; Helen Coveney and Al Armstrong were defeated by Marian Pearson and Frank Dampf, 6-3.

Squeeze 9-8 Victory Over Barrie Valleys

Billed as an all-star attraction between Barrie "All Stars" and Newmarket ladies at the park last Thursday's game turned out to be just a straight Newmarket-Valley clash. For Valley's made up the complete roster of so-called "all stars". In any event Newmarket ladies weren't scared by the high sounding title of the visitors and eked out a 9-8 decision. The clash raised some folding money in aid of Pat Duncan who recently was injured in a game at Barrie. It was Pat's first appearance of the season for the locals and possibly won't be in action again this year.

Barrie elected to send its latest recruit, Marg Noble, to do the tossing. As is often the case, she suffered from a case of beginner's jitters and couldn't come close to the plate, heaping five walks and added to this an infield error and the locals had a three-run start. Dot Miller, the regular pitcher, took over and before squelching the fire walked in another run to make it four to nothing. From there in the Barrie pitcher kept Newmarket fairly well under control allowing two runs in the third, one in the fourth and two in the sixth. It was well that the Courtney-Vanzant clan did get that early jump as every run was needed to hold the visitors in check in the final frame. The Barriens came up swinging to bat around and bring over five runs. With the tying run on third Hester Clark stopped the rally.

two from town council, two from the businessmen, one from the Recreation Commission, one from factory management and one from employees in town industries. A vote was held in the four major industries, Office Specialty, Davis Leather, Canadian Hoffman and Dixon Pencil to select an employee from each plant. One of these four was later to be chosen by the town council as the factory representative on the arena commission. The complete list of possible arena commissioners is now ready for submission to the town council.

Another item that has had the attention of the Ways and Means Committee has been plans for increased seating capacity at the arena, modern dressing rooms and necessary building to house the ice making and heating equipment. These plans, as well as an up-to-date entrance from Cedar St., have been completed and are ready the minute work can go forward.

The committee has also made various enquiries, checked tenders for the installation of artificial ice, visited other artificial ice arenas in the north and has given tentative approval to one proposal out of several submitted.

As near as can be ascertained, something like six weeks to two months are required after work has started to install the ice making equipment. If Newmarket is to skate on artificial ice this winter no further time should be lost. One major factor stands in the way of this community project coming to a successful conclusion and that is lack of funds.

Sport sheet's humming. No holiday for the diamond sports. Vets entertained at Mount Albert Legion Day. Our ladies put on an exhibition-tilt at Cobourg, as has been their custom the past three years. Lacrosse "Redmen" took the long jaunt to Huntsville to wind up their regular campaign. Results show Vets reached finals, ladies beaten 8-4, lacrosse — well we don't want this whispered around but it was a terrific lacing. As expected Huntsville "Hawks" massaged our men but good 33-2.

For better or for worse, it's Midland "Merchants" and Newmarket in the semi-finals of the Barrie and District league semi-finals. The word that has kept Skipper Courtney, Charlie Vanzant and Orval Hisey on their toes came through Tuesday a.m. Midland and Valley's closed the season in a dead heat. The two tangled Monday in a sudden-death session for top. Midland carried the verdict 9-6. Thus the Courtney-Vanzanters have that all-important first semi-final game here tonight against Midland, the front runners. Newmarket finished third in the race. Our gals will have their work cut out for them. Midland have been tough and Muriel Rawn, the Midland school marm, now back in pitching form, seems to have their number. We'll see, but this could be the spot to halt the Midland menace.

Let-down Department: Mac's men took the starch out of Aurora last Thursday. It was the visitors' first and only loss of the season. "Joint" McComb, who always enjoys a tiff with the Aurorans, was the dominant figure on the diamond. "Joint" set Aurora down on four hits. The fact is Aurora won't be as easy in future tilts. Three there are in fact, to be settled before play-offs skip around. Aurora lacked Earl MacDonald, Andy O'Neill, Mac Clement, Norman Stunden and "Dewey" Doolittle from their line-up.

Haskett's Hash: About you guys and gals. Newmarket Ladies should get a lift for that all-important semi-final set-to with Midland. Mary Osborne will be back on the job. Mary has been holidaying in the States this past three weeks. Old rivalries were reshaped when Thornhill and the Vets squared off in the finals at Mount Albert Monday. Who should they see on the Hill line-up but Nick and Bob Bangay and Bob Watson of Markham hockey fame. Ned Tansley, now a commuter from out Hope way, is the new coach with the Hopesters. Since taking over and making some shifts it's been a winning march for his new team. Can't tie it down as to whether Mickey Smith is at the helm of the near toppers, Pine Orchard, or not. Haven't seen the Newmarket citizen at the Orchard games of late. Two old timers, know they'll forgive us for putting them in that category, Carl "Shorty" Turan and Ollie "Glenville" Gould shared the catching duties Friday evening in the Stouffville-Newmarket baseball clash. The liniment makers have enjoyed a field day since, we are told. Grant Blight will likely be missing from the baseball line-up for the balance of the season. A torn cartilage suffered last Wednesday is the cause. Bob Hassard, a smoothie around the corner with Stouffville intermediates, has been working out with Montreal Royals of the International League whenever that club comes to Toronto for a visit.

With the gutted stick tribe, Tom Conney, fast stepping Redmen, fired his 20th goal last week. He's top scorer with the Redmen. Another item that brought a round of cheers from the lacrosse clientele was "Ozark Ike," that's Ray Rex, first marker of the season. The fans have been asking the big blond boy to do it, he did it last Friday against Ravinas. Larry Sheffe and Matt Walsh now await play-off action for their Redmen. It won't be delayed long in all probability.

Normie Legge will be lost to the Vets for ten days. Normie had the misfortune to cut his hand over the weekend. The speedy right-fielder will be missed for there's little doubt top rating would fall to him in a league all-star rating. Vets are in Zone C of the O.A.S.A. playdowns. Three teams come under this section—Brampton, Lake Shore Legion and Newmarket. It'll likely wind up with the same old draw. Newmarket vs. Lake Shore Legion or New Toronto, as they used to be called. Barrie secured one of the spots in the better baseball campaign being sponsored by the Toronto Tely, Toronto Maple Leafs and Philadelphia Phillies. A large influx of players

Redmen Hold Own Lose Tilt in Fourth

Those chaps who staged a fight for three periods of lacrosse instead of the customary four should have fought harder for their point. At least that was the feeling we gained after seeing Newmarket "Redmen" hold onto the highly rated Toronto "Ravinas" at the rink for three long periods Friday.

It was seven all at the three-quarter mark. Then what happened to our Redmen shouldn't happen to a dog. Ravinas, with Newmarket playing two men short to start the fourth and final chapter, rapped in three goals before you could write them on the score sheet. From then on the visiting sharpshooters made life miserable for Bernie Murray in the Newmarket cage as they swung into high gear and shot in another seven goals before the game ended. Newmarket's best in that final score-jammed session was three for the final score of Ravinas 17, Newmarket 10.

Bob Hanna, Roy Collings and Andy Johnston racked up two goals each and Bob Benville a goal and an assist. Jack Greenham, Ray Fox and Bruce Collings contributed a goal each.

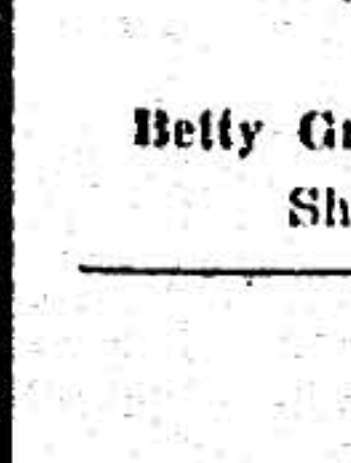

Joe Formica was Mr. Poison so far as Newmarket was concerned with five tallies on the books. His chief aid was forward "Red" McAdam with four credit marks. The game didn't lack for action and 12 penalties were called, including three five-minute major sentences.

Newmarket closed out their regular campaign at Huntsville Monday evening. As was expected, they came away a well bruised crew, 32-2. Bruce Collings and Harry Mashiner were the Newmarket marksmen.

JUNIORS ARE SUCCESSFUL

Newmarket—The Newmarket Junior Tennis club held a successful tournament on Wednesday and Thursday of last week. An enthusiastic group of girls and boys took part. In a closely contested match Bob Broadbent emerged the victor over Jim Sine with a score of 1-6; 6-2 and 6-4. Barbara Lewis deeded her sister, Jean, in the girls' finals with a total game score of 11-10. Winners and runners-up were presented with useful prizes. Another junior meet is planned for the end of August. All juniors are urged to keep up their practice for the event.

John Stuart, the unpredictable sports enthusiast, is a busy man these days. The ex-Aurora boy with a string of 13 horses headed by Bunty Line, who has been looking better, purchased four horses the other day from Mrs. Harry Lahman, including Double Belar, and North York. In his first start in the Stuart tarian, Moanigan won but was lost to Stuart via the claiming route.

When the business and racing day is over, you can see John out each evening with Toronto Argonauts. After a somewhat bitter experience with Oakwood Indians and Beaches Indians, Stuart figures he's finally hooked up with a winner on the grid-iron. Already a flock of the Beachers including half-back Doug Pyzer and outside Vern Picard have joined Argos, and the negotiations with the American imports have been in the hands of John. No less than five Amerk beef-trusters are in the Argos fold right now and as he says, "If we get a good quarterback we're the team to beat."

Ray Fox, currently playing boxla with Newmarket, who is better known to the fans as "Ozark Ike", is a candidate for the Scullers line. Fox, who needs a lot of polish in lacrosse, is an all-round athlete, wrestling being a sport at which he really excels.

Virginia Pasquale may not be a familiar name to you and you, but to softball fans at Sunnyside in the days when Lakesides, Sugrems, Pattersons, etc., were the top teams, said Virginia Pasquale was the top-ranking first baseman. The other night as Mrs. Les Beazer, Aurora, she came back to the diamond to take her place at first base as the oldtimers battled it out with the present day stars. Didn't play badly either.

Stouffville intermediates were belted out of the Tri-County play-offs by Sunderland in three games. Stouffville won the first game 18-7, and dropped the others 10-5 and 9-6. Stouffville will continue in the O.B.A. race, however, and likely as not will meet Newmarket in the first round. Murray Brandon, Sunderland, who used to play hockey for Sutton Greenshirts, was the fielding star on the series.

Cookstown defeated Bradford in a play-off for the Memorial Cup in the South Simcoe league. Bradford finished on top over the year but Harry Cause was in rare form as he hooked up in a hurling duel with Steve Simone. Bradford is now meeting Tottenham and Cookstown is playing Fennell's Corners. Both teams will have their hands full to survive.

Lacrosse play-offs are just around the corner. Eliminated from the intermediate A series, Newmarket meets Weston in the B grouping with first game in Weston tomorrow night and the second in Newmarket on Thursday, Aug. 11. It's a best of five series. Midland and Port Hope meet in the other bracket. As the homestretch is reached in the central group, it's Pergus, Maple, North Peel, Orangeville, Woodbridge and Norval in that order. So for the allocating of the calibre of the teams has not been decided.

Going back through the lacrosse records we note that Markham was the first district team to win honors. Back in 1899 with the redoubtable Charlie Querrie as a player, the Mark-les swept all before them to win the C.L.A. senior crown. The same year Beaverbrook Checkers, featuring the famous McMillan brothers, were intermediate champs. Bradford hit the national game's headlines next, winning junior honors in 1902, and intermediate honors in both 1908 and 1909.

Newmarket Talagoes won the juvenile championship in 1909, the first year the series was active. Those are the only I.L.A. wins or O.L.A. wins recorded until last year when Maple won the intermediate B honors.

Aurora, while never winning a championship except two Tri-County junior titles and a North York junior crown, was up in the contention on more than one occasion. Richmond Hill, it will be recalled, took the Tri-County intermediate crown once and also won the Tri-County senior championship with an entry good enough to rate Ontario honors. More than just playing the game, the district sent leaders into the direction and control of the game.

Six past presidents of the O.L.A. are listed as follows: the late Col. T. Herbert Lannox, Aurora; Peter McMillan, Beaverbrook; W. J. Stark, Stouffville; John F. Lennox, Stouffville; H. S. Cameron, Beaverbrook, and Thomas Doyle, Newmarket. Mr. Doyle is a regular spectator at the Newmarket home games. Life memberships are something the O.L.A. hands out sparingly and of some 20 so honored the late Ernie "Turk" Doyle heads the list. There were many more who sat on the executive over the years.
